STATEMENT BY THE BRITISH ON DISARMAMENT

Government Will Issue White Paper on Incidents German Government Disputes

Covenant Still Binds Teutons

Germans Say They Are Leaving League Because It Is Marxists' Forum

Canadian Press and Associated Press
London, Oct. 20. — The British Government will publish a white paper to-night, containing proceedings of the steering committee of the disarmament conference, to support the declaration of Sir John Simon, Foreign Minister, that Germany erred in charging the British had misrepresented her demands to the United States.

It also was understood to-day the German government is desirous of ending the controversy between Baron von Neurath and Sir John Simon. The British view is the white paper will show up to the time Germany left the conference there was no misunderstanding on Von Neurath's part regarding Sir John's course of action.

At the full cabinet meeting Wednesday the stand taken by Sir John in the Geneva talks was fully supported by the British Government. Sir John previously had said the Reich had "jeopardized, if not wrecked," the Disarmament Conference by its last-minute attitude, which was characterized as a demand for substantial disarmament.

FORUM OF MARXISTS

Berlin, Oct. 20. — Germany withdrew from the League of Nations not only because of failure of the World Disarmament Conference, but because the League had become a forum for "Jews and Marxists," it was asserted to-day in a statement by the semi-official Wolff News Agency.

The statement followed close on the heels of the government's official notification to the secretary of the League of Nations yesterday the Reich was withdrawing in accordance with plans announced a week ago.

"The League of Nations lost the right to represent the civilized world because it had become a forum for Jewish and Marxist oratory," the statement asserted. "Germany will no longer participate in such assemblies which are a caricature on international co-operation."

Then, declaring the official notification left no doubt of Germany's attitude, the statement continued: "The exit from the League is the logical consequence of the failure of the Disarmament Conference, which formally independent in reality was only an instrument of the League."

Reviewing failures in the League's history, the statement said the Japanese-Chinese conflict had raised doubts everywhere concerning the League's efficacy and had hastened Germany's decision to withdraw.

"Besides the negative results of the Disarmament Conference, the decisive factor was the impression of the last League of Nations meeting where a number of states, in violation of all usages and with the sole desire to pose, made attempts to interfere with internal German politics," it declared.

The newspaper Tassblatt, in an obligatory-like comment, declares whether the League continues to exist is less important to Germany than whether it remains and justice prevail.

NO NEW MOVE

No new overtures from Germany were expected by observers, who recalled the stock reply of the Foreign Office to all questions regarding the Reich's plans after withdrawal has been: "The others now have the floor."

NOBEL PRIZE FOR DR. T. H. MORGAN

New York, Oct. 20. — Private advice received to-day said Dr. Thomas Hunt Morgan of Pasadena, Cal., has been named the 1933 Nobel Prize winner for medicine.

Aged Man Asks For Jail Term; Six Months

Vancouver, Oct. 20. — Edward McManus, seventy-three, wished to go to jail for six months, so he broke a glass window in the store of A. Nesselhaum. To-day he had his wish granted by Magistrate J. A. Findlay.

"I am pleading guilty and I want six months," declared McManus when the charge was read to him in court.

After ascertaining the man's age the magistrate asked: "Have you ever been in gaol before?"

"CADDY"

In the above sketch is Cadborosaurus as Mr. and Mrs. Kemp, 2115 Marne Street, and their family saw him off Chatham Island, which is about two miles off Ten Mile Point. At the request of The Times Mr. Kemp prepared the sketch of "Caddy." The sketch was accompanied by the following note: "The underwater portion which I have put in is entirely supposition but I have estimated it from the amount of water displaced which leads me to believe that some parts of the body must have been very bulky. From the movements I firmly believe the creature had flippers or some kind of legs. The public is entirely at liberty to believe it or not but we have seen it and do most emphatically believe." Scores of people have reported sighting "Caddy" but the Kemps are believed to have had the first view of him. "Caddy" was unreported yesterday.

King Tells Voters They Have Great Opportunity

Liberal Leader Addresses Meeting and Overflow Meeting at Campbellton, N.B., Urging People in Two Eastern and One Prairie By-election Oct. 23 to Condemn Bennett's Tariff Policy

By Ray Brown, Canadian Press Staff Writer
Campbellton, N.B., Oct. 20. — Trade policies which make for isolation tend to produce strife, Mr. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Premier of the Dominion, asserted here yesterday evening. No country on earth, he added, had gone as far as Canada in raising tariffs during the period the present government had been in power.

COAL INQUIRY IS REQUESTED

Halifax, Oct. 20. — Immediate investigation into all phases of the Nova Scotia coal industry has been asked of the provincial government by representatives of the Nova Scotia Coal Protective Association. "Rightful duties" on coal imports which the submitted brief said find their way into Canada "by improper customs entries," was urged, along with other suggestions.

MANY PERISH IN TYPHOON

Yashima Maru Sinks Off Coast of Japan With Sixty-six Victims, One English

Fishing Vessels Are Reported Missing From Small Japanese Ports

Associated Press
Kobe, Japan, Oct. 20. — Sixty-six persons, including an English woman, were feared to have perished to-day when the coastwise steamer Yashima Maru foundered in a typhoon off Suma, near here. Owners of the vessel said their figures showed of the crew of fifty-eight and fifty-nine passengers, fifty-one survivors had been reported.

The vessel was en route here from Beppu, Japan. The Yashima Maru, formerly the British mine-sweeper Sparrowhawk, at first was reported to have burned, but later it was learned she had foundered in the storm, almost within sight of her destination, according to survivors.

The typhoon also carried death to fishing fleets. Several ports reported craft had foundered or were missing.

Poison Taken By Girl Hitch-hiker

Canadian Press
Medicine Hat, Alta., Oct. 20. — A girl hitch-hiker from Saskatchewan, who gave her name only as Leland and who took three ounces of a powerful disinfectant in a cafe yesterday evening, was on the road to recovery at hospital to-day while police sought her relatives in Saskatchewan.

The collapse occurred in an oil station after taking the disinfectant, a note in her pocket saying, "No money for food," and asking "Ray Harman, Avonlea, Sask.," be informed "if anything happens."

FOURTEEN-YEAR SENTENCE GIVEN

Ten Lashes Also Ordered For Man in Montreal After Narcotic Trial

Canadian Press
Montreal, Oct. 20. — Harry Davis, thirty, convicted two weeks ago of conspiring to smuggle into Canada narcotic drugs valued at $200,000, to-day was sentenced by Chief Justice R. A. E. Greenfield to fourteen years in the penitentiary and ten lashes. In addition a fine of $8,000 was imposed.

"Traffic in drugs must be stopped," the Chief Justice said. "One way to do it is to put you and the pestilential virtues of your class beyond the drug—to put you where the helpless public cannot be corrupted or even tempted by your nefarious trade and traffic."

Davis, former night club proprietor here, charged with conspiring with Prince Brecher, New York City, and Jake Polakiewicz, Paris, to import the illicit narcotics.

Polakiewicz is awaiting trial in New York, but also charged in New York, but a grand jury there refused a true bill because the alleged drug offences were committed in Canada. The Chief Justice recommended efforts be made to extradite Brecher so he could be put on trial here.

DRIVE TO CUT LICENSE FEES

Credit Granters Will Approach City Council to Secure Reductions

Have Jumped From $15,000 to $105,000 a Year

A determined effort to have the City Council support endeavors to have legislation enacted which will bring about a more equitable and reduced system of trades license fees, will be made immediately by the Credit Granters' Association of Victoria. Decision on this action was made at a luncheon meeting in Spencer's dining-room to-day, following an address on licenses by Robert J. Jameson.

By unanimous assent the executive of the association was empowered to appoint a special committee of the whole organization to interview the City Council with a view to having the council name a committee to deal with this matter and then possibly take it up with the new government of the province.

Mr. Jameson dealt extensively with the situation, explaining that several years ago, when trades licenses were subjected to a substantial increase, the merchants had been given to understand in a gentlemen's agreement that the revenue from the increase was to be solely devoted towards increasing the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau grant. However, he stated, since then, when the publicity grant had been reduced, the surplus revenue from license fees had been given to a general fund to aid the council's finances.

"Caddy" Visited Vancouver Inlet

Sea Serpent Has Not Been Corroborated as at First Suspected, Having Been Sighted Off Cadboro Bay Since by Major Langley

"Caddy" has actually been in Vancouver Harbor, according to a Canadian Press dispatch received by The Times to-day. On August 6 last he was sighted at the entrance to the North Arm of Burrard Inlet. When this dispatch was received, suspicion was aroused that Vancouver, anxious to crash in on the tremendous publicity which Victoria has received from the discovery of Cadborosaurus, was making an attempt to steal "Caddy." Once the serpent got inside the First Narrows at Vancouver it was feared that he would never be allowed outside again.

Fears of this, however, were allayed when it was noticed that "Caddy" had been in Vancouver Harbor on August 6, but had been sighted by Major W. H. Langley and Mrs. Langley on Sunday, October 1. This means that "Caddy" found the harbor not to his liking and returned to his old haunts between Ten Mile Point and Chatham Island.

The dispatch from Vancouver to-day was as follows: "Caddy," the sea-serpent whose frolics have attracted considerable attention in the neighborhood of Cadboro Bay, Vancouver Island, apparently has extended his trips.

"Mrs. Edith M. Clark came forward to-day to say she saw the marine monster near Vancouver, at the entrance to the north arm of Burrard Inlet, on August 6 last. From her summer cottage there she said she saw what at first appeared to be a school of blackfish."

"Looking closer, she observed a head like a big seal, and three distinct humps. The creature was about three times the length of a rowboat, she declared."

PRAIRIES HAVE SNOW STORMS

Winnipeg, Oct. 20. — Winter made its first official visit to the prairies to-day, as snow, sweeping down from the north, covered southern sections of all three prairie provinces.

Spreading a great white blanket over the wheatlands, snow was general from Winnipeg to the Rocky Mountains.

FORMER MAYOR FALLS TO DEATH

New York, Oct. 20. — Eugene Murphy, former mayor of Fort William, Ont., fell to his death to-day from a tenth floor window of a Park Avenue hotel.

Murphy's mother, Mrs. James Murphy, and his brother, James Philip Murphy, were in an adjoining room. The body landed on a wire screen over a skylight set in the roof of a fifth floor extension of the hotel.

James told police he believed his brother suffered a heart attack at the moment he opened a window in his room to let fresh air in. He recalled his father had died of a heart attack.

After an investigation, police pronounced death an accident. Besides the brother's story, they learned from other guests with windows on the same court Murphy collapsed as he raised the window, fell against the draft pane, breaking it, and then fell to his death.

HONORARY DEGREE FOR JOHN NELSON

Alfred, N.Y., Oct. 20. — An honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred on John Nelson of Montreal, president of Rotary International, by Alfred University to-day. Mr. Nelson made the principal address at the inauguration of Dr. Paul E. Titsworth as president of the university. His subject was "The University's Place in International Relations."

Both his and Dr. Titsworth's addresses were broadcast.

JAPANESE CABINET VOTES ARMY BUDGET

Tokyo, Oct. 20. — The Japanese Cabinet to-day issued a communique, which said: "The ministers agreed on the fundamental principles for conducting the empire's foreign, national defence and finance policies."

Japanese language newspapers stated they believed War Minister Araki and Navy Minister Osumi had gained their colleagues' consent to the priority of the 1934-35 budget.

It was said authoritatively these demands consisted of an appropriation of 620,000,000 yen (approximately $168,175,000) for the army and 980,000,000 yen ($181,450,000) for the navy.

Maritime Premiers To Hold Conference

Canadian Press
Saint John, N.B., Oct. 20. — Premiers of the three Maritime Provinces will meet in Amherst November 7 to discuss mutual problems with a view of bettering conditions.

SHERIFFS TO STOP WHEAT SHIPMENTS

Associated Press
Bismarck, N.D., Oct. 20. — Governor William Langer to-day ordered sheriffs of North Dakota's fifty-three counties to take steps to stop wheat shipments from the state, in compliance with his embargo proclamation.

SEATTLE WATCHING

Seattle, Oct. 20. — Commenting on the report from Moscow that negotiations were under way for recognition of Russia by the United States, shipping men and port authorities declared to-day recognition would benefit Seattle, as the nearest seaport of this nation to the Orient, more than any other coast city.

Materials and supplies needed in Siberia would be sent to Vladivostok, which would mean Seattle would have a large share of the trade, John Carmode, shipping man, said. "Several years ago, the Russian government would have shipped to Vladivostok and in my opinion this trade would be revived."

Smith Wilson, port commissioner, said that while he doubted whether the coast could sell lumber and wheat to Russia, "a free flow of trade and open markets for many manufactured articles, and perhaps for our fruit."

Grouper Returns Fee to Ottawa

Consistent Winnipeg Man Sends Cheque for $68.50 After Joining Movement.

New York, Oct. 20. — Commodities and stocks rallied briskly this afternoon coincident with rumors of prospective recognition of Russia by the United States.

Wheat at one time was up the limit of five cents a bushel, while shares climbed $1 to around $3, though gains in both markets were only partially held.

On the stock exchange traders bought shares of companies which they thought might profit by broader business relations with the Soviets, such as the farm implement, machinery and electrical equipment issues.

The United States dollar turned strong. The French franc dropped 11 of a cent to 546 cents and Dutch guilders lost more than a cent at 52.25 cents, both currencies reaching the lowest levels in some time.

The rally in stocks died down rather quickly. It appeared the Russian rumor and the rebound of grains had stimulated some hasty short covering. Earlier stocks were very erratic, bobbing up and down nervously.

Six Hundred People Hear Testimony at International House Party Opening in City

Mayor Extends Greetings to Visitors; Speakers Stress Co-operation and Fellowship

Victoria's first international house party of the Oxford Group movement got into action last night with a reflex demonstration of the enthusiasm which is making itself felt throughout the world.

Between 500 and 600 people representative of all classes of denominational thought filled the Empress Hotel ballroom for the opening reception.

Mayor Leeming, leaders of the movement here, and members of the clergy, as well as groupers from Seattle, Vancouver and up-island, occupied the speaker's platform.

Testimony was given frankly and unreservedly of changed lives. The co-operation, sympathy and fellowship typified by the group was stressed.

The movement was described as a cross-section of humanity and emphasis was given that the group activities were at flood tide.

AGE OF MIRACLES

"The thought must have come to many of us to-night that the age of miracles is not past," said A. M. D. Fairbairn, chairman, preliminary to the introduction of the speakers.

WHEAT RESTRICTION

While attacking the tariff policy of the government as the basic weakness shown by the present administration, Mr. King had other points of assault. He was particularly caustic in reference to the policy of restricting production of wheat.

What right, he asked strongly, had the Prime Minister of Canada to interfere with production? "Without even consulting Parliament, Mr. Bennett initiates a policy of scarcity," he continued.

"Surely it was never intended," he said, "that as a matter of policy we should tell our people they are not to produce at a time when there is starvation in the country."

If Mr. Bennett could restrict production of wheat in western Canada, why could he not apply his "policy of scarcity" to the east? He might decide to tell New Brunswick fishermen they should catch fewer fish.

PROMISES RECALLED

"Has this government done anything which merits your approval?" asked the Liberal leader. In the last general election campaign Premier Bennett had made many promises to New Brunswick.

FARRIS HEARD
IN CAMPAIGNFormer Attorney-General Addresses Election Meeting in Vancouver

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Oct. 20.—British Columbia Liberals struck the greatest blow at partisanship in Canada when they decided in convention that a government could only be defeated on a vote of want of confidence, declared J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., making his first appearance here yesterday evening in the present provincial election campaign.

Taking a shot at the Independents, Mr. Farris asked, "Where would Roosevelt have been if he had tied up to Hoover? Where would Pattullo get with one leg chained to Bowser and the other to Dr. Tolmie, and carrying Dugald Donaghy in his arms? The real reason you can't find Tolmie candidates in the fight is that there is a kind of an Indian warfare on. Behind every stump is an old Tolmie supporter who calls himself Independent every time he peeps out."

WOODSWORTH'S POSITION

"The C.C.F. was born of a spirit of confiscation of private property and destruction of personal liberty," said Mr. Farris. "I oppose it, first, because of the men at the head of it. Mr. Woodsworth is a mild-mannered man, but he must be judged by the talk he offers and I find him suggesting that 'violence may come.'"

"Socialism is a principle mooted and kicked around for 2,000 years. I invite you to show me a single place where it has ever been tried."

STATEMENT BY THE BRITISH ON DISARMAMENT

By Joseph E. Sharkey, Associated Press Correspondent

Geneva, Oct. 20.—League of Nations officials emphasized to-day Germany is bound by the covenant of the League despite its resignation, since the covenant is a part of the Treaty of Versailles.

This point was emphasized while officials awaited the text of the German notification, regarded in international circles as more permanent serious than departure of the Reich from the Disarmament Conference.

Simultaneously, League officials drew attention to wide differences between Japan's bolt from the organization and Germany's withdrawal.

Japan resigned because the League Assembly condemned her Manchurian policy, Germany because the League Assembly is a protest the League has not done enough for her.

Hence, League quarters believe it will be easier for the Reich to return to the organization than for Japan, but they hinge on whether concessions are made to Germany.

League circles ascribed Chancellor Hitler's sudden decision to discontinue the negotiations to the fact the four-power conversations had not advanced.

It was reported Premier Mussolini of Italy had stayed Hitler's hand while the German Chancellor was making the soundings failed, the German Chancellor decided to break with Geneva before awaiting the Reich plebiscite November 12.

It explained the view concerning Germany's League with drawal was based on expectation political tension in Europe will be increased.

NEW YORK BROKERS
TO AID INQUIRY

Washington, Oct. 20.—The United States Senate stock market investigators decided to-day after an executive session with brokers and counsel for the New York Stock Exchange to obtain information on market practices through a questionnaire submitted directly to the brokers instead of through the exchange.

In view of the exchange's refusal to distribute the questionnaire, the committee decided to go ahead otherwise. A group of brokers and representatives of the committee went to work at once on a revision of the questionnaire to get the information desired without too much expense or delay.

Leader was a number of lieutenants who have waged the campaign during the last few weeks—J. E. Michaud, Liberal candidate; Mayor P. W. O'Neil, J. P. Pouliot, Liberal M.P. for Temiscouata, Que.; H. P. G. Bridges, president of the local Liberal committee, and others prominent in Liberal circles in the constituency of Restigouche-Madawaska.

CANDIDATE SPEARS
Mr. Michaud addressed the audience at some length, declaring he stood for better living conditions and higher wages for industry.

He charged Premier Bennett with adopting an "I can't" attitude in the face of serious conditions.

P. Pouliot, Liberal M.P., referred to Premier Bennett as "the gramophone of the C.P.R." and asserted there should have been no $80,000,000 guarantee extended to the railway without the approval of Parliament.

To-day the Liberal Leader went to Edmundston for an evening mass meeting.

LABOR'S POSITION
Mr. King said the government had headed had been friendly to labor and had done what it could to improve conditions for labor. The Liberal government had passed the old age pensions legislation. It had put a representative of labor on the board of the Canadian National Railway. He believed, said Mr. King, there would never be permanent peace between capital and labor until labor had its full share of representation on boards of great industrial corporations.

GREAT INTEREST
Coming in a brisk by-election campaign in which Liberal, Conservative and Reform-Labor candidates were vying for support, the place of Mr. King had aroused great interest even before he appeared at the meetings.

The Canadian dollar finished the day at 96 5/8 cents, down 1-16 of a cent. The final rate represented a premium on United States funds of 3 7/16 per cent.

Sterling closed at 84 1/2 for a loss of 1/4 cent. The opening rate was 84 3/4, but later the pound rallied and at noon was 84 5/8.

Restless and worried Mr. Bishop explained the situation.

"You'll be left," said a voice from the hall.

"No, the answer I was to give to the question is: 'A member of the provincial Legislature,'" said Mr. Bishop, concluding amid laughter.

representative organizations in the city and felt that a plea from them would draw attention from the council. The time was never more opportune for concerted action in this direction than it was at present, Mr. Jameson stated.

STUMPED TO $105,000
Before trade licences were increased he said the City Council was receiving an annual revenue of $15,000 from this source. After the increase this revenue was jumped to $105,000. Instead of this additional money being given to the public, from which the merchants were to benefit, it was given to a general fund and never found its way towards promoting the publicity promised.

SYSTEM INEQUITABLE
The inequity of the present system was also reviewed. Mr. Jameson pointed out that the two department stores on Victoria paid $1,100 yearly for their licences, while chain stores which also supported several departments, paid only $120. The department stores, he said, paid $35 a year per department.

The talk provoked considerable discussion among the members. S. J. Drake explained that licence fees in the cases of other than department stores were based on rental values of the buildings occupied, while private business men paid $50 a year per operator in their offices.

These fees, it was stated, were the highest or nearly the highest, paid in Canada, and some action ought to be taken to lower them.

It was realized that only provincial legislation could alter the present scale, but the association decided that the better approach would be through the City Council.

FARM STRIKE
IS CALLEDFarm Holiday Association in U.S. Makes Challenge to NRA OrganizationNo Official Statement as to What Roosevelt Will Do

Associated Press
Washington, Oct. 20.—The NRA's most serious challenge was seen by some administration officials to-day in Nebraska's open outbreak of rumbling farm discontent and the strike called by the National Farm Holiday Association.

Immediate official comment was lacking, but some authorities felt Keith Neville's resignation as chairman of Nebraska's NRA board because of "the manner in which the programme is being conducted in agricultural states," created an emergency threatening the cornerstone of the industrial recovery programme—national unity.

WHITE HOUSE SILENT
There were opinions a personal expression declared, until "our farm products bring the cost of production and until we are refinanced under the terms of the Frazier bill."

Among the first to endorse the proposed strike was Governor William Langer of North Dakota, whose embargo on shipments of wheat from that state took effect at 12:01 a.m. Thursday.

Officials said they were appealing to association members to make the strike effective by keeping their products at home and not sending them to "unlucky necessary." Conferees agreed to take all possible steps to prevent violence.

ROOSEVELT'S VIEWS
Washington, Oct. 20.—President Roosevelt was reported by London to-day as a Democrat, to-day ready to take action in the face of unrest among farmers.

House members who had taken to the White House a proposal for price fixing on agricultural commodities, told reporters on leaving Mr. Roosevelt would be adjusted.

PRICE PROPOSALS
"Trust proposed prices of a dollar a bushel for wheat, 7 cents a pound for hogs and 10 cents for cattle."

"The President is confident of the situation," he said, "and I think he has some very definite ideas in his mind in the way of prompt action."

The Ohio Democrat severely condemned administration of the Agriculture Adjustment Act and asserted "Secretary Wallace and his professors are doing no good."

TIDE OF OXFORD
GROUP MOVEMENT IS NOW AT FLOOD

"Some seven months ago, a comparatively few people, strangers, laymen mostly, came among us. They stayed with us and spoke to us, and we were then and then departed, leaving behind them many lives won for Christ and changed in a very remarkable way."

"The miracle is I think chiefly evidenced by the fact that, in this age of depression when there is no stability of thought, when so much is in flux, the observed of this kind should quietly come together to witness to the world at large that God is still in His Heaven and that Christ is still on earth."

CROSS SECTION OF HUMANITY
Miss Duff Stuart told of her experiences at the Oxford house party in England.

"We went there to learn, but found that they could learn something from us Canadians," she said.

The gathering included representatives from twenty-seven different countries. There were groupers from Germany, Liberals, Conservatives, Communists, Roman Catholics, a Dutch member of the League of Nations, a baron and baroness from Switzerland, clergymen, Oxford students and delegates to the Economic Conference, then in session in London.

"It was a complete cross section of humanity and the drawing power was Christ," she observed. "The solution of every problem, she said, was 'in Jesus Christ, in the spirit of God, and not in the dictatorship of beings.'"

INSPIRATION GIVEN
Rev. Fred Conley, president of the Ministerial Association, told of a meeting of ministers he had attended at Royal Oak which had been called to discuss the problems faced this winter.

In surveying the present problems, he said, a great deal of inspiration came from such gatherings as that of the Oxford Group Movement. The problems, he said, were not so great because of the sympathy and co-operation offered.

CHRIST IN POLITICS
Dr. Jack McDermott, Vancouver, confessed to appearing before a Victoria audience twice this week. He spoke before the Kiwanis Club on Tuesday about his insurance.

"I am thinking to-night of another kind of insurance. But a short time ago there was no God in my life. It was at the Harrison house party that I surrendered," he said.

He disagreed to speak of the political

BURNING WITH PATRIOTISM

Rev. E. F. Church of Metropolitan United Church, was called to the platform from the body of the hall and drew a laugh from the audience by stating he had just come from a United Empire Loyalist meeting bursting with patriotism.

"There was an excellent dinner and a wonderful speech—I made it," he said, to the amusement of his audience. Mr. Church warned to the infectious enthusiasm of the Oxford Groupers.

The movement had been likened to mercury and it had been said that the thermometer would go down and stay down.

"But the tide is still at the flood," he said.

"It is wonderful how the group movement has got into our churches. Remarkable that the prepared, solemn messages of the pulpit had a tendency to induce sleep, Mr. Church said that people went to group meetings to get wakened up."

CLOSER FELLOWSHIP
It was a privilege to attend the gathering, Rev. H. P. Luttrell of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, stated. Christ was fundamental in this work.

The activities of the group embraced a close fellowship and a marked movement in the spirit of God.

Dean Johnston brought the meeting to a close with prayer.

"H O, hum!" said Harry Hopkins, as he sank into bed. "Here's where I enjoy a good snooze." And then the telephone rang—downstairs!

Poor Harry had to turn out in a hurry and scramble madly to the main floor. It was dark; it was cold; and when Harry bumped his foot, his misery was complete.

FUNDS FOR NEW WORK PLANS

G. Sloan, Vancouver Candidate, Tells How Liberals Could Raise Money

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Oct. 20.—Gordon Sloan, Liberal candidate for the Legislature in Vancouver Centre, in an address here yesterday evening took up the question of where money would come from to provide for the Liberal plank of "work and wages."

Nationally, he suggested, money could be obtained by using national credit issued through a national central bank. If it was not obtainable this way, he suggested three alternatives provincially.

First, a compulsory loan to call in bonds and put out an issue at one-half the present interest. Present interest charges, he said, amounted to $11,000,000.

Second, the gold note plan. By this plan, he said, the province's annual gold yield of the province (estimated $6,000,000 this year) and issue gold notes at the ratio of two to one, which would give better security than Dominion notes now issued at a ratio of four to one.

The third plan suggested, to be used only as a last resort of a desperate people, was to allocate one-half of the sinking fund of the province ($25,000,000) to bank treasury notes. He stated he only gave these plans as suggestions to show that if necessary a way could be found to raise the money for Mr. Pattullo's policy of work and wages.

CITY HALL PLANS ARE DISCUSSED

Canadian Press
Vancouver, Oct. 20.—With title to the Central School site, south of Victory Square, formally vested in the city yesterday, there is now no obstacle to a use of the property as a site for a city hall, it was disclosed at a meeting of a special city committee with representatives of the school board yesterday.

If civic authorities wish to use the site for city hall purposes, however, they must be prepared to provide accommodation for the children now attending that centre, and also provide property from tax sale lands to offset the granting of the central site. It was roughly estimated it would cost $75,000 to meet the school requirements.

This information will be given to the city council by the committee; and another meeting will be held later, when plans made years ago—during former city hall construction schemes—will be presented, showing estimates of costs of proposed civic administration buildings.

GROWERS MISS APPLE SALES

Canadian Press
Vernon, B.C., Oct. 20.—One of the best apple marketing months on the prairies has been lost to Okanagan growers, according to E. J. Chambers, recently returned from an inspection trip to the prairies on behalf of the Okanagan Stabilization Board, accompanied by R. F. Borrett, Kelowna grower.

Because of price stabilization, Okanagan Macintosh apples were not in demand so long as Creston, Kootenay and Grand Forks had supplies and were willing to sell for less.

"This year we set a higher standard of prices," stated Mr. Chambers. "Freight rates on bulk apples increased and bulk finally discontinued to some markets. On a per capita basis, apples are costing the consumer in some markets 100 per cent more than last year."

NEW GOVERNOR TO BE NAMED

Winnipeg, Oct. 20.—Speculation is rife in government circles as to the appointment of a new Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba on conclusion of the term of office of Hon. J. D. McGregor, January 25, 1934.

According to well-informed sources, four prominent Manitobans are being considered for the office, most likely of whom is W. J. Tupper, K.C., Winnipeg, son of Rt. Hon. Sir Charles Tupper, one of the Fathers of Confederation, and one-time Prime Minister of Canada.

Hon. Robert Rogers, M.P., Winnipeg, is also prominently mentioned as an appointee, along with Col. H. A. Mulholland, M.P. for Marquette, and Col. G. H. Atkins, K.C., son of the late Sir James Atkins, for two terms Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba.

CANADIANS STUDY TRADE UNDER NEW AUSTRALIAN RULES

Numerous Dominion Exports Advantageously Affected By Budget Now Before Parliament at Canberra

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Oct. 20.—A long list of Canadian exports to Australia is advantageously affected by the recent Australian budget, according to supplementary information received here by the Department of Trade and Commerce. Rates of duty are to be adjusted in the light of Australia's depreciated currency on goods admissible to Australia under the British preferential tariff.

On any given date, Australia's currency is depreciated within the limits set forth in the budget announcement, then the duty to be collected by the Australian government on the Canadian goods entering under the preference rates would be less than heretofore.

The formula by which deductions from ordinary customs duty will be made is divided into two parts. One is effective when the Australian currency is depreciated by not less than 16.3 per cent. The other adjustment provides for a depreciation of less than 16.3 per cent, but not less than 11.1 per cent.

RULES FOR DEDUCTIONS.
As the two parts of the formula operate, however, at date of exportation, Australian currency is depreciated by not less than 16.3 per cent. A deduction will be made from the ordinary customs duty of

(a) One-fourth of the duty, or
(b) One-eighth of the value of the goods for duty purposes, whichever is the less.

But, whenever Australia's currency is depreciated by less than 16.3 per cent, but not less than 11.1 per cent, the deduction from the ordinary customs duty will be

(a) One-eighth of the duty, or
(b) One-sixteenth of the value of the goods for duty purposes, whichever is the less.

As Australia's currency is at present depreciated by about 21 per cent, in terms of the Canadian dollar, the deduction applicable to Canadian exports is interpreted to be either one-quarter of the ordinary duty or one-eighth of the value of the goods for duty purposes.

PRIMA DUTY
Additional to the foregoing exchange adjustments, Australia has cut its "prima" duty—an impost which coincides with Canada's import tax—from ten per cent, in some cases to five per cent, from ten per cent, in others, while in some cases the "prima" duty is eliminated altogether.

LISTS OF GOODS
A partial list of Canadian exports to which the adjustments may be followed:

Cocoa and confectionery, canned crustaceans, canned fruit and vegetables, sundry goods, not named in the tariff, put up for household use or for retail sale; cotton, piece goods of cotton, wool and felt, haircloth, waterproof cloth.

Waterproofed roof coverings; linoleum; quilts, table covers, sheets, pillow cases and like articles; handkerchiefs; specific towelling; braids and fringes; tents; sails; bags of textile; aluminum wire; lead sheets and pipes; zinc bars, sheets, dust, tubing; wire; specified iron wire; specified agricultural machinery and implements; excavating machinery; smelting machinery; refrigerators; steam engines; road rollers; piston rings, pins and valves; electrical machinery and appliances; suitable at 15 per cent ad valorem and accessories; alternating current watt-hour meters; covered wire and cable.

Blackings, dressings oils; cement paints and colors; Portland cement; Oars, furniture of wood; incubators; specified manufactures of wood; specified clocks and watches; phonographs and records; leather, harness, belting, surgical rubber goods, rubber mats, hose, gloves and ties.

PAPER EXPORTS.
Paper bags, roofing paper, blotting paper, gummed paper, straw board, cover paper, straw paper, straw board, printed advertising matter, stationery, ink, handkerchiefs, infusers for tires, bicycle and brooms and mops; brushes, coke, specified cordage and twines, binder twine, specified yarns.

CLEAN SLATE FOR NEW YORK SHOWS

New York, Oct. 20.—New York City, said David S. Levine, commissioner of licenses, to-day is "100 per cent pure."

"My show inspectors have just finished a complete survey and they report to me no infidelity exists any longer in any shows," he said. "New York is a city of decent people and it must be made a city of clean-up order. It has been obeyed to the letter. You see, I am very liberal."

WOMEN SAY 3.2 INTOXICATING

Associated Press
Chicago, Oct. 20.—Accuracy of University of Chicago chemists whose experiments recently found 3.2 per cent of beer to be non-intoxicating was challenged to-day by the Women's Christian Temperance Union. The W.C.T.U. said there were stages of intoxication and some of the early stages were more dangerous than "stagging drunkenness."

In an article prepared for The Union Signal, a W.C.T.U. official paper, Miss Emma L. Transeau, research secretary of the Scientific Temperance Federation of Boston, charged the Chicago chemists actually had proved the opposite of what their report showed.

"These investigators, so far as we can learn, showed one to four bottles of 3.2 per cent beer can produce as much as five parts of alcohol in 10,000 parts of blood," said Miss Transeau.

Miss Transeau quoted Dr. Walter R. Miles of the Carnegie Nutrition Laboratories in Boston as finding the following scale of toxic symptoms:

Two parts of alcohol in 10,000 parts of blood; dizziness and willingness to talk.
Three parts in 10,000, expansiveness and willingness to loan money.
Four parts in 10,000, clumsiness and loud talk.
Five parts in 10,000, forgetfulness of inhibitions.

Associated Press
Moscow, Oct. 20.—Reported serial bombing of Hainching (Changchun), Manchuria, by Russian airplanes was emphatically denied yesterday by the official Tass news agency.

The report, which first appeared in some Chinese newspapers, and was reproduced in the European press, was described by Tass as "a quite obvious fiction of provocative character."

WHEAT LEVY RISE LIKELY

U.S. Farm Adjustment Officials Favor Boost in Processing Tax

By ROY F. HENDRICKSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

Washington, Oct. 20.—Definite prospects appeared to-day for a substantial boost in the processing tax on wheat, levied at the rate of thirty cents a bushel since July 9, with sentiment for an increase gaining much headway among United States farm adjustment administration officials.

It was reliably reported a continuation of the recent weakness in wheat prices while consumers' costs climb upward would be certain to result in a higher levy within six weeks.

The increase may come sooner, but administration officials first want to know if the current price slump is of a temporary nature. Some of them were impressed by yesterday's strength at market centres, with buying in Chicago sending the grain up twelve cents above Tuesday's close.

Government purchases of wheat for relief purposes were credited with having an important part in the rise, but on this point of the programme officials were silent. The wheat is being consigned to the federal emergency relief administration.

JAPAN PROTESTS NAZI ATTITUDE

Associated Press
Tokio, Oct. 20.—Japan has protested to Germany against Nazi racial discrimination as anti-Japanese. A Foreign Office spokesman revealed the move yesterday.

He added the Japanese Government and the people of Japan were highly indignant at Germany's branding us as inferior.

Referring to "the well-known sensitiveness of the Japanese on racial matters," the spokesman pointed out that even in the United States the Japanese were not subjected to the same treatment as negroes in Germany, he said, had linked them in the same category.

CLAIM TO WILL IS OVERRULED

Santa Barbara, Cal., Oct. 20.—Superior Judge Carl Stutland yesterday admitted the will of the late Byron H. Canfield, millionaire publisher of the Scripps-Canfield League of Newspapers, to probate. The claim is not a part of the Scripps-Howard organization.

He over-ruled a contest initiated by Mrs. Jessica Kingland. In making the ruling, he declared Canfield was a resident of Santa Barbara county, instead of the State of Washington, and that Mrs. Kingland had never been married to Canfield, nor was she his common law wife, as she had contended in the contest.

As a result of the verdict the estate will go to the sisters of the publisher, Alice and Harriet Canfield, and Robert, a brother.

The ruling was a reversal of the findings of a jury which heard the contest here several months ago.

QUEBEC TO HAVE BIG TIMBER CUT

Canadian Press
Quebec, Oct. 20.—Province of Quebec lumbermen were jubilant to-day following announcement between 22,000 and 25,000 men would invade Quebec forests this winter and cut more than 726,000,000 board feet of wood.

The season will be the best since 1926-27 and the most will be paid higher wages than last year, Avila Bedard, assistant chief of the provincial forestry service, announced. The cut is expected to be 175,000,000 feet more than last year.

CHINESE WEST IS OPENED UP

Associated Press
Peiping, China, Oct. 20.—Dr. Sven Hedin, Swedish explorer, engaged by the Chinese government for a trip to Sinkiang province preliminary to an attempt to open up the territory economically, will depart on the journey tomorrow.

Plans were announced in Shanghai September 7 for opening up to trade of the westernmost Chinese province of Sinkiang through a $50,000,000 (gold) project of highway and rail construction and irrigation works. Dr. Hedin was engaged to make a preliminary survey which it was believed would require eight months.

But Hoover cannot read or write. Learning this yesterday, Judge MacNeill not only refused to relent, but assigned an assistant district attorney to teach Hoover the spelling.

"And if he gets drunk again, I'll make it 2,000 words a day," the judge warned.

WOODSWORTH IN CAMPAIGN

Freezeville, Sask., Oct. 20.—J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, yesterday evening addressed a meeting in this village in the interest of Ex-Judge L. St. G. Stubbs, C.C.F. candidate in the Mackenzie federal by-election.

The candidate spoke briefly, giving praise to Mr. Woodsworth for the campaign he had waged, and declaring getting relief rationing, "he asserted, anyone who truly followed the teachings of Christ, must be a socialist, Mackenzie constituency, he said, held the spotlight of Canada at present and all eyes were turned on the result of the polling next Monday."

Mr. Woodsworth had criticism for Mr. Bennett. He had failed to make good, the speaker said. The present Premier had promised to cure unemployment and to blast his way into the markets of the world. "Has he done so?" asked Mr. Woodsworth. "Perhaps you had better ask the 1,467,000 persons who had not so very long ago were begging for relief rationing," he asserted.

A PLAN TO BEAT POVERTY

If the people of this province elect sufficient candidates who are running under the banner of Mr. Pattullo—as they will do if they desire stable government in preference to chaos in government—to enable him to form an administration, one of the first matters to which he will set his hand will be the development of a sane programme of necessary public works in order that the unemployment problem may be relieved.

The Liberal leader contends that the Dominion government could allocate moneys to the various provinces to be paid back without interest, which means the use of the national credit to wage war against poverty—to provide work and wages. And Mr. Pattullo quite properly argues that if the authorities at Ottawa can lend money to the Canadian Pacific Railway Company without interest, as they have done, then surely similar consideration could be extended to the provinces.

The principal target of this policy, of course, is the dole which we have with us in its worst form. Not only is there very little to show for all the money which has been expended; the system is undermining the morale of those who draw bare subsistence for patchwork labor and for no labor at all. The Prime Minister of Canada says the youth of this country is getting finicky, and will not work, although there are plenty of jobs for them. As Mr. Pattullo said at his meeting in Mount View High School last night in his challenge of this statement of Mr. Bennett's: "It is a direct insult to our youths, bewildered as they are with the present economic situation. If it is true, then it is not a result of the economic opium that Mr. Bennett has given them for the past three years? Is it not an argument directly opposed to the policy that he has pursued?"

The policy of the Liberal leader of British Columbia is directly the reverse of the policy of the leader of the Conservative party of Canada. Mr. Bennett was elected more than three years ago because he promised to end unemployment. His formula was an increase in the tariff. He has carried out his programme. There are three times as many idle persons in Canada now as there were in the summer of 1930, and our trade is worth approximately one-third of what it was worth then. On three occasions, the first time at the regular session of the Parliament at Ottawa in 1931, Mr. Mackenzie King urged the Prime Minister to establish a national impartial council to advise the government on all the aspects of the unemployment problem. No action has been taken.

In contrast with the blank cheque and dole policy of the government at Ottawa, Mr. Pattullo proposes action to provide employment of a constructive nature in order that a fair day's wages may be paid for a fair day's work. So that the right kind of work may be provided he pledges himself to the establishment of an economic council, composed of men from various walks of life, a body capable of giving expert advice upon which it will be possible for the government to act. The province, of course, has nothing to do with the tariff, but the Liberal leader naturally argues that it would be much more economically sound to employ the national credit without interest to the provinces than for the Dominion to continue to pay out money which is scarcely productive at all and which does not ease the employment situation.

It can not be too strongly pointed out that constructive policies such as this and many others included in the Pattullo platform can be carried out only by a government headed by a leader who knows where he is going and who knows he has a united party behind him. A Pattullo government means a stable and orderly government.

NO RAILWAY STRIKE

News from Montreal yesterday intimated that the wage dispute between the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian National Railways and the railway running trades had been settled; but it was not expected that an official statement could be made for a day or so, perhaps not until Premier Bennett arrives back in Ottawa from his western tour.

This dispute concerned the men's refusal to accept the second cut of ten per cent in the basic wage rates. It is suggested that the basis of the reported settlement was an agreement on the part of the two railway systems to rescind the second reduction next month, refunding part of the amount lost to the employees, while applying the balance to their pension fund. Another rumor going the rounds in Montreal is that there is a prospect of the first cut being rescinded next May.

Whatever details of settlement may have been decided upon, the thing that is of vital interest to every Canadian, to industry as a whole, is that employers and employees apparently have recognized their mutual obligations and their obligations to the country generally. Canada has never experienced a general railway strike. Such a stoppage of transportation services as it would entail would be disastrous at any time; but it would be nothing short of a national calamity at this time.

THE ETHICS OF ADVERTISING

"Advertising is the voice of business and is an essential factor in the making of profit. To think of it as a regrettable expense and look forward to the day when it might be eliminated from your accounts is to misunderstand its function and its power altogether."—Sir Francis Goodenough, at the recent conference of the British Commercial Gas Association.

It is as essential for an industry to learn to advertise as it is for a child to learn to talk. It would be as costly a blunder for a business not to spend money on advertising as it would be for a parent to refuse to spend money on his boy or girl learning to speak and write.

By some business men, Sir Francis Goodenough went on, advertising is looked upon as an expense mainly connected with putting a proposition or a product before the public, and they hope to "cut it out" as soon as the business has got running. He says further:

As a nation and as an industry we have plenty of stiff gradients to climb out of the valley of depression and over the hills of competition, and we have need for steady progress when we get back on to the high road and uplands of prosperity; so we simply cannot afford not to spend enough to give us all the driving force that advertising can provide.

Sound, educative, informative, reliable advertising, of course, is needed to-day more than ever for the building up and maintenance of sound business; business, based on efficient service, that will be profitable alike to buyer and seller and therefore to the nation, which together they constitute.

HE DOTH PROTEST TOO MUCH

Chancellor Hitler says "the claim uttered abroad that the German people are preparing enthusiastically for war is a misunderstanding, inconceivable to us, of the meaning of the German revolution."

There would be some disposition to take a statement of this kind at its face value were it not in such direct conflict with what Hitlerism already has done, what it proposes to continue to do to enforce its own decrees in the face of views held by the 17,000,000 Germans who voted against it last March. It is in strange conflict with certain passages in Chancellor Hitler's book, "My Battle," one of which suggests that the frontiers of 1914 are merely incidental parts of the Nazi government's foreign policy, for "just as our forefathers did not receive the land in which we live as a present from heaven, but had to fight with their lives for it, so in future nothing will grant us land and life for our nation except the power of a victorious sword."

While the author of "My Battle" admits the Hitler government has no desire for the return of the lost colonies, he writes that "nothing but sufficient space on earth ensures freedom of existence of a nation," and it proposes to look to new lands in Europe—first "we are bound to think of Russia and her border states."

If Chancellor Hitler had not war in mind when he wrote this book, he evidently interprets the meaning of words in a peculiar manner. Germany's withdrawal from the Disarmament Conference and the League of Nations, of course, is hardly likely to be considered a convincing peaceful gesture.

MOTOR TAXATION

According to the figures of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, revenues collected by the Dominion and provincial governments from motor vehicle operators in 1932 amounted to $56,700,000, or over $50.00 for every motor vehicle in operation in Canada. This was an increase of 7.32 per cent as compared with revenues derived from the same source during 1931. This increase in revenues took place in spite of the fact that the number of motor vehicles registered decreased by 7.2 per cent and that the consumption of gasoline decreased by 9.4 per cent, as may be seen from the following table:

	Motor Vehicles and Gasoline Consumption in 1932
	No.	Reg. Decrease	Gasoline Con. Decrease	%
P.E.I.	6,662	10.9	2,692	10.9
Nova Scotia	41,153	6.0	19,021	5.5
New Brunswick	28,044	16.6	13,672	14.7
Quebec	165,730	6.6	91,128	6.6
Ontario	631,597	5.5	236,689	5.2
Manitoba	71,570	4.8	26,185	13.6
Saskatchewan	91,275	18.5	39,639	32.9
Alberta	86,878	8.3	41,300	8.0
British Columbia	91,042	7.0	39,458	13.0
Yukon	232	4.0	...	...
	1,114,509	7.2	503,781	9.4

*Increase.

The increase in revenues was therefore due almost entirely to the raising of the license fee and to the increase in taxation on gasoline. All Canadian provinces with the exception of Quebec and Alberta raised the gasoline tax early in 1932. Quebec had already raised this tax in December, 1931. As a result of the increase in taxation, the revenues derived from the gasoline tax was $4,537,197 larger than a year ago in spite of the sharp reduction in consumption.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

CALGARY SEES ITS THROUGH
The Calgary Herald

Financially we are "in the red," but we are carrying on with reasonably good heart. Improved tax collections indicate that the citizens are doing their best to help out, faced as they are with their own financial problems. City employees are carrying on under difficulties and on lowered wage scales with a commendable cheerfulness and a worthy determination to "see this thing through." Month by month, by grace of the city's bankers, we are granted a sufficient cash advance for the municipality's bare existence needs. This pittance has not yet been denied us and there is good reason to believe it will, like the widow's cruse of oil, not fail us until the dawn of a better day appears, when we shall once again be on our own.

THIS IS WAR TIME
The San Francisco Chronicle

Some folks think Al Smith is inconsistent in coming out now with a plea for NRA. No inconsistency at all, but patriotism. Like a great many other persons with doubts about NRA, Al Smith recognizes that the experiment is on, that it is the only organized attempt at recovery that we have at present, and that all of us, whether or not we fully agree with NRA, must do our best to make it succeed. We are in a war; the plan of campaign has been decided. It is no time to buck the commander-in-chief.

NOTICE!

The Times will print no letters in this column more than 400 words in length.

These letters must be plainly written on one side of the paper only, and must be accompanied by the names and addresses of the writers, not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.

Letters will not be re-written for publication. If they are not legible no attempt will be made to read them.

Letters not used will not be returned to the writers. These rules, which henceforth will be carried out absolutely, are designed as much for the protection of our patient readers as for that of The Times.

AN EXPLANATION

To the Editor:—As there seems to be a great deal of misapprehension in the public mind regarding the sudden closing of the Empire Theatre, and my connection with it, I shall be glad if you will allow me space to give the correct version. The theatre was closed and the equipment removed suddenly without reference to myself as manager or the staff, no notice being given by the manager of the Vancouver concern who were the lessees and responsible for the policy of the house. I had no authority financially as to the paying of wages and local accounts and the responsibility still lies with the Vancouver concern for any settlements in this connection.

The foregoing can be vouched for by the staff and proprietors of the Empire Theatre. JAMES McGRATH, "Dilkusha," Earl Grey Street.

PLYMOUTH, NOT HOLLYWOOD

To the Editor:—Alderman Todd says that if Victoria is lucky, it may become the Hollywood of Canada.

To many people, Hollywood is not attractive, from the cultural point of view. Victoria should become the Plymouth of the British Empire. Plymouth was the place wherefrom the English embarked when they got such a good start at foreign invaders.

Those who prate of the desirability of internationalism would think it wrong to sing the "Internationale." Danger of modern warfare will only be lessened by curbing the power of money.

To be attached to one's own country does not cause belligerence, any more than being attached to one's own family makes you want to fight your neighbors. GLADYS SHRAPNEL, 1578 Clive Drive, Oak Bay.

THE UNFINISHED MEETING

To the Editor:—I would like to comment on a public meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce Saturday, October 14 on behalf of Rev. Mr. Davies. The speaker was rather unimpressive, and when he came to the point of the meeting was broken up, but that they had the police ready and if anyone said "Boo" he would be taken care of. We then had a "Question Period." Three written questions were read by the speaker. Surely the speaker did not expect any normal being to swallow anything so ridiculous as those three questions, particularly the first. Does the speaker write his own questions? After half an hour of questioning and stinging mud at the various parties, we were treated to a little interruption at the back of the hall, with signs of a general shower of questions from all quarters. So to play safe, we close the meeting very abruptly, in fact in an unfinished state. During the entire meeting we were not told anything constructive, only slandering, and how the speaker, single-handed fought the drug traffic, (I would like to know what our late Dr. Ernest Hall was doing during that period and also Mr. North). After the close the general topic was, why didn't he allow a question period? If this is a sample of Rev. Mr. Davies' meetings, well, it is up to the people on November 2.

RELIGION AND POLITICS

To the Editor:—The Times synopsis of Rev. Clem Davies' speech on Saturday evening last provides food for thought.

There is no disputing the fact that the reason ministers of the Gospel go into politics is that there is more money in it—if they are elected—than if they are not. It is a shame that a man of Mr. Davies' caliber should be so much interested in a seat in the cabinet. I ask Mr. Hinchliffe to bear witness to that. I think the same gentleman man will also agree with me that the opening prayer at the sittings of the Legislature is a farce in view of what usually happens subsequently.

These are weak preachers as well as weak governments, and they are the pseudo servant of the Lord who put on their religion with their Sunday clothes and play politics the rest of the week.

"Independents" (self styled) lack "intestinal fortitude" (otherwise, guts) and with the "Non-Parliamen" playing the game of musical chairs, but in different rooms as the latter are a little bit snobbish, and hope to be lucky enough to flop into a seat when the music stops. I regret to see The Vancouver Province in this class, but then it always had a personal grudge against Mr. Pattullo.

I hate to say anything about the C.C.F. it would be like shooting at a balloon in the stratosphere with a 22 rifle. It simply does not belong in British Columbia, and the people in favor of it should go to Russia. "CYNICUS."

FOR PEACE

To the Editor:—In view of recent happenings, it is possible the younger world of to-day may still view with abhorrence the destiny which is being determined for them, and which may readily terminate in slaughter. For they it is who, for the most part, having played no part in the events leading thereto, will be called upon to make the "supreme sacrifice." Not so because the "instinct to resist aggression" is stirred, nor for "honor," "duty" or "justice"—carefully bound and blinded—but because individuals in various countries, the excellence of whose character and sense of national sentiment or boundaries, are concerned with the accumulation of wealth from the "impediments" of warfare. They alone can afford to laugh as they gaze upon the spectacle of warring peoples offering passionate prayers for their altars for victory in arms. These men will always win, for they fight for and against both sides regardlessly.

The strength of their activities is derived from the weakness of the organizations for peace, but it is not yet too late for the "unity of peaceful purpose" to gain its goal. If those whose perplexity still permits them to believe in the strength of their faith in fundamentals will act fearlessly and firmly, the grave dangers confronting us may be removed. But the first and most difficult step is to divorce the profit from the manufacture of arms.

With profound respect, but with an eye to history, it is reasonable to assume a doubt in the strength of treaties, and to incline to a belief that the segregation of all private gain from war would do much to avert it in the future. The "moral" reliance, whether such gain be eliminated depends entirely upon the will of the world to do so, and whether that desire dwells among the halls of the abstract or has entered into the strength of determination. STEPHEN B. LLOYD.

Vice-president League of Nations Society in Canada, Victoria Branch, October 15.

MONEY

To the Editor:—True, money is what might be called "credit slips." The issuing power hands them out for goods delivered, or labor performed, and honors them—accepts them at par—when tendered for payments due. Honest money is earned money, when you look at a bill of whatever denomination, you should be able to say: "This amount has been earned; work to this value has been performed; goods delivered." There is no necessity for money to have intrinsic value nowadays. Gold and silver have had their uses in cruder times, but they are quite obsolete as currency now. Gold is a metal of very limited value in the arts and of little utility apart from its being used artificially as a standard of value. And that paper money is unable to perform its functions without gold being stored in vaults somewhere, is a superstition. As to silver, our coins contain only about one-third of sterling, and would get by quite as well with none.

Now, wherever there is anything seemingly intricate or artificial—any legal fictions or pretences whatsoever—in matters of legislation, let the average citizen beware! The chances are that some "power behind the throne" is putting something over on him. No government should have anything to hide from the people it serves. All government activities should be an open book before the electors.

The great fact about all money, whether the issue is directly by the government or delegated to banking corporations, the safety and security and guarantee to the citizen that his currency is sound, rests and abides in the revenue-collecting power of the government.

The little island of Guernsey has issued non-interest bearing scrip for more than a century, sometimes only redeeming it in ten equal annual instalments. Beside the great saving in interest, this scrip passes from hand to hand as currency. By adopting the

There is sufficient wealth in a few hands to pay off the provincial debt in twenty years time without undue hardship. Quite often we hear a patter about taking records of ability to pay. Let us try it for once.

"YOUTH MOVEMENT"

To the Editor:—A few days ago you were good enough to publish a letter written by myself upon a "Youth Movement." In it I asked any who were sufficiently interested, among the younger generation, in the affairs of this province, to communicate with me.

The response to the letter far exceeded any expectation, and it is felt in view of the interest shown, it will be best to hold a public meeting, at which the aims and objects of the movement, together with plans for obtaining same, may be explained and discussed.

With this end in view, a meeting has been arranged to be held in the Y.W.C.A. on Monday, October 30, 1933, at 8 p.m. and again I would ask any who are interested in affairs, which are after all, directly their own, to be present at that meeting.

PARKS AND BOULEVARDS COMMITTEE

To the Editor:—In your issue of October 18, re Parks and Boulevards Committee on tour to-day: I should like to call their attention to the fact that it would be a great benefit to those who enjoy Beacon Hill Park, if a seat were provided at the terminus of the street car line so that women with children and others, could rest for the fifteen or twenty minutes which, at times, one has to wait for the car.

I have often felt sorry for a woman with a baby in her arms, when she has had to make use of the front door step of the little store nearby. I have noticed that for many years, and have often wondered that it has not been remedied.

If the city staff have no one who can anchor a seat so that the boys will not remove it, there are plenty of citizens who can and who would be glad of the job. It means little or no expense to remove a seat from a lessened sidewalk. I have heard several remarks from tourists with regard to this.

WELL-WISHER.

THE UNBURIED DEAD

To the Editor:—The government with only twelve candidates in the field, is as dead as Julius Caesar, with the difference that Julius knows, if he knows anything at all, that he is dead. In all the political parties of Canada, I doubt if there is anything as fantastic as the spectacle of an administration which outlived its legitimate term of office by several months, repudiated by its former supporters in the House to such an extent that they are afraid even to call themselves by the same name by which the government calls itself, going through the motions of taking part in an election in which it is not contesting three-fourths of the seats, and all this after only one term of office to which it was elected with three-fourths of the House membership behind it. It has collapsed beneath the weight of its own ineptitude, reflected in several million-dollar deficits, a debt increase of a million for every month of its term, meal taxes, wage taxes and what not. It should have got out a year ago. This would have been tough on Canon Hinchliffe, but the province would have benefited.

Destiny that will not give me rest,
Till good is through my life expressed.
From wells not of the earth it springs,
This urge through my being thrings,
And with divine insistence stings.
To give of faith and love and hope
To those who falter, stumble, grope,
Along life's sometimes barren slope.
This is my never-ceasing prayer,
To make the pattern grow more fair
By weaving threads of gladness there.
And this the dream I long have wooed:

SQUARE DEAL LIBERAL AIM

Whitney-Griffiths Points to Laws For People Put on Statute Books

Esquimalt Candidate Greeted By Large Crowd at Rex Theatre

"Canada has gained much from this movement we call Liberalism. Much has been done in the world to bring out humanitarian laws and codes by this movement," said C. E. Whitney-Griffiths, Liberal nominee in Esquimalt riding, at a meeting at the Rex Theatre in Esquimalt yesterday evening which was attended by some 400 people. J. F. Mesher occupied the chair and introduced the speakers. Musical numbers were rendered during the evening by Miss Barbara Allen, who gave a delightful rendition of two popular numbers, and little Donald McLean who presented two impersonations.

Answering a questionnaire sent out by the British Columbia command of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., Mr. Whitney-Griffiths said that all the questions were answered in the platform adopted by the Liberal convention in Vancouver last October, and now being expounded by Liberal candidates all over the province.

"I can't go quite as far in one of two respects as they want," he said, "in regard to employment of returned veterans. That gallant body of men who served overseas are our creditors in a debt that we can never repay. But a returned man should not hold a good government position at a good salary while he is receiving a good pension. We cannot give returned men, who are in receipt of a good pension, preference over civilians who are not receiving a pension and who are starving."

He reaffirmed that he was out for a square deal for all the people of Esquimalt but, he warned, they must not forget that there are other districts in the province as well. How much a municipality or district gets out of the public treasury should be determined by how much that district pays into the treasury, either directly or indirectly.

"There must be justice for all of British Columbia," said the speaker, "and the reckless programme of spending that we have had in the past must cease. The question of a balanced budget is very simple. You must not spend more than you can collect and there is a limit to what people can pay in the form of taxes."

"We want an orderly condition of society and we want an orderly change. We must not have revolution, strife and bloodshed, although that is what will come unless we change very soon."

Criticism of the Tolmie government for holding the election at this time of year was made by the candidate, who told of the condition in the northern part of the province at the present time.

He reaffirmed his statement that he would give a report to his constituents at the end of every session.

In closing Mr. Whitney-Griffiths said: "If necessary, and personally I feel that it is necessary, the Liberal party will go farther to help the people than they have stated in their platform."

MANY TO ATTEND McGEER DEBATE

Vancouver, Oct. 20.—A record crowd for a political meeting is expected to attend the public debate this evening between G. G. McGeer, K.C., Liberal candidate in the forthcoming election in Vancouver-Burrard, and Dr. Lyle Telford, C.C.F. candidate in Nanaimo.

Hon. R. L. Maitland, K.C., will be chairman. The two combatants have had a small joint committee of supporters arranging details.

The issue to be debated is that the Liberal policy, as compared with that of the C.C.F., is better fitted to minister to British Columbia's needs in the present crisis.

BENNETT TO-DAY IN WINNIPEG

Premier Has Number of Interviews as He Returns to Ottawa

Winnipeg, Oct. 20.—Prime Minister R. B. Bennett returned to Winnipeg today and this evening will continue his journey to Ottawa, planning to arrive in the capital Sunday.

His prairie speaking tour ended at Regina yesterday. The Premier to-day was occupied with private interviews here. During his tour, Mr. Bennett addressed audiences in Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge and Regina, expounding the policies of his government, and dealing with both domestic and international problems.

He paid a tribute to the courage and confidence of Canadians—a courage which he said had brought the Dominion through the depression in better condition than any other country.

REGINA SPEECH
Regina, Oct. 20.—Premier Bennett, addressing a Board of Trade luncheon gathering here yesterday, said that because of tariffs raised against Canada in some foreign countries, and because of general world conditions, Canada's foreign trade had been handicapped. But agreements had been entered with Germany, France and Austria and prospects for future trade were bright.

"I have no hesitation in admitting, however, that even against nations with whom we had agreements, we never hesitated to apply the dumping clause against goods that would have been thrown on the Canadian market at a price that would not permit the Canadian manufacturer to pay his taxes," Mr. Bennett said.

CENTRAL BANK
Describing the World Economic Conference negotiations looking toward stabilization of credit and currency, Mr. Bennett told of the decision gold should be the international unit of currency and the unanimous decision central banks were essential in all developed trading countries.

"The Dominion of Canada gave adherence to that resolution," Mr. Bennett said. "We were satisfied the only way we could take our proper place in dealing with exchange credit and currency problems, was by establishment of a central bank."

BRITISH JUSTICE TRAVELS FAR TO REPRIMAND CHIEF TSHEKEDI

The story of the 200-mile march of British marines led by Vice-Admiral Evans, into the interior of Bechuanaland, to punish Chief Tshakedi of the Bamangwato Tribe, for flogging a white man, is an instance of the far-reaching arm of British justice. Vice-Admiral Evans, in his capacity of Acting High Commissioner of Bechuanaland, tried Chief Tshakedi for ordering the flogging of a white man, Phineas McIntosh, and removed him from his position. Later, the full details of the case were placed before King George, who ordered the Chief to be reinstated. The main picture above shows Vice-Admiral Evans, standing on the dais, addressing Chief Tshakedi at the trial. Tshakedi is wearing a dark overcoat and stands in the middle of his lieutenants. The picture at the top shows British marines manning a howitzer at the trial while Tshakedi's subjects remain in the distance listening to the proceedings. Inset is Phineas McIntosh, the European, who was flogged by the natives. It is against the law of the country for natives to judge and punish a white man.

HAYWARD SETS OUT HIS STAND

Was Father of Plan For Coalition Government, He Tells Audience

Senior Conservative Tells Why He Seeks Re-election As Independent

He had taken the only course an honorable man could and had remained loyal to his leader until the dissolution of Parliament but as far back as September, 1931, he wrote to Premier Tolmie advocating party politics be dropped for a union government. Reginald Hayward, senior member for Victoria in the last Legislature, said yesterday in the course of an address explaining why he was now appealing for election as an independent candidate instead of as a Conservative.

Mr. Hayward explained he sent the same letter to the Victoria Conservative Association.

"I received a gracious acknowledgment from the Premier for my letter but no encouragement and my letter to the association was, after due consideration, received and filed as it thought there was too much dynamite in it."

"From that time my future course seemed clear to me; if my party could not see its way clear to put country first, then at least I would, or else quietly retire into private life," said Mr. Hayward.

PREMIER'S EFFORTS FAILED

"The Premier a year later apparently thought there was some merit to my suggestion, for late in 1932 he declared for Union Government. Unfortunately all his attempts to form a coalition failed, and no one regrets it more than I do, for as far as I can learn I was the father of the idea, and for the good of the country I would like to have seen it succeed. Dr. Tolmie is a likeable man. There isn't a man who followed him during the last Parliament that not only liked him, but loved him, but the interests of one's country comes before the interests of the party or the individual, hence the reason why so many old Conservative members are to-day appealing to their constituents as independents."

"I regret very much that Mr. Pattullo and Mr. Bower could not see their way clear to enter a coalition, at least for a while, to endeavor to help the province out of the economic morass world conditions seem to have brought us to. For reasons apparently satisfactory to themselves they would not do this, so it is now up to the electors to decide what is the best course to pursue."

OF INDEPENDENT THOUGHT

"Coalition having failed, it is my opinion that the next best thing to do in the interests of British Columbia is to elect sufficient persons of independent thought, persons who have made a success in their private lives, persons of good morals, who are conscientious and true (no matter of what political faith they used to follow) to control the destinies of our province for the next few years."

Although he had been loyal to his service in civic and provincial affairs. He had a great affection for the city in which he had lived all his life and was ready to serve it in any way in his power, he had been loyal to the party on whose ticket to the Legislature, he had held the right to maintain a streak of independence and gave vote that he could not support when the occasion arose.

WOULD CUT LEGISLATURE

In this connection Mr. Hayward mentioned the Redistribution Bill and at the same time advocated a reduction in the number of members of the Legislature.

"When the Redistribution Bill was brought in," said Mr. Hayward, "I felt it in no way whatever met the public demand, and was in my opinion so wholly unfair, that when a division was called for, I had to stand up in my place like a lighthouse on a lonely rock, and vote against the government."

"I have preached reduction of membership since I made my maiden speech in the Legislature in 1924. I am still firmly convinced that the business of the Legislature can be just as well, if not better and more expeditiously carried on, if ten or a dozen members were cut off the present number of forty-seven. Victoria could be quite capably represented by two good members, but I am not in favor of sacrificing Victoria unless other parts of the province take a reduction also."

"London Transactions" of Finance Minister Jones Held to Cost B.C. $1,200,000

The dispute between leaders of the various parties as to exactly what is the total debt of British Columbia continued yesterday evening with John Hart, former Minister of Finance, denying the accuracy of the figures given the night before by Premier Tolmie, who in turn had been denying figures given by some other speakers.

PUT INTO HIS HANDS

Mr. Hart spoke at the Liberal ward meetings at the George Jay and Bank Street schools. He declared he did not think the Premier was deliberately stating incorrect figures, but was merely reading off the figures that had been put into his hands, and which were not accurate. Mr. Hart said there was a difference of some $20,000,000 made up from guarantees of F.G.E. bonds which had not been taken into account in the figures supplied to the Premier, as regards the amount of the debt which the Liberals started with. Dealing with what he called "the London transaction" of Finance Minister Jones, Mr. Hart asserted that the five secret commissions and the unfavorable terms of the loan were costing the taxpayers of British Columbia $1,200,000.

H. W. Davey spoke on unemployment insurance and supported the Liberal proposal for the repeal of the Jones 1 per cent wage tax, and favored the establishment of a public utilities commission for the province.

WITH PUBLIC TREND

W. T. Cralth spoke on the principles advocated by the Liberal party and its efforts to keep up with the trend of public thought in legislation. He emphasized the Liberal plank for freedom of action of members in the House, so that each could vote for or against a measure without being tied down by any party caucus.

Alderman W. H. Kinsman continued his series of discussions on state health insurance, mothers' pensions and social legislation generally. He explained the benefits of each of these measures. J. B. Clearhue dealt with the history of the party system, and declared the party caucus was "not so terrible as some people think." However, under the Liberal plan members would be free to vote as they chose on any measure. He decided it was not possible to have big business control the Legislature because individual members of the party would not be controlled.

Byron Johnson spoke again on the freedom from caucus plank.

Edward Rowebottom presided at Bank Street, while Alderman W. D. Todd presided at George Jay School.

COMING TO ROYAL

Hollywood turned out en masse to see Michio Ito, world famous Japanese dancer, and his company of solo dancers, on the opening event of the Jack Glendower, Hollywood Series, October 2, at the Hollywood Women's Club.

To hold the audience spellbound in his Tane Fomen (Yamada). His body attuned to the dynamic moods of the dance, with first a slow, flowing legato movement, accentuated by staccato ones, was like music from a violin in the hands of a super artist. Every gesture was significant—never a movement for the display of technique.

To will dance here at the Royal Victoria Theatre October 30.

CAPITOL THEATRE

"The Power and the Glory," the new Jesse L. Lasky production for Fox Film in which the story-telling technique called "narrative" is revealed for the first time, is having a successful engagement at the Capitol Theatre. The film is a presentation of the original screen play by Preston Sturges, noted playwright.

Spencer Tracy and Colleen Moore have the featured roles in the film. The supporting cast, with Ralph Morgan and Helen Vinson at its head, includes Clifford Jones, Henry Kolker, Sarah Padden, Billy O'Brien, Cullen Johnston and J. Farrell MacDonald. The direction is by William K. Howard.

DOMINATION THEATRE

Sweeping back in brilliant splendor to the joyous eighties and the gay nineties, onward to modern times, "Broadway to Hollywood," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's glittering cavalcade of theatricism, is the unusual attraction now playing on the Dominion Theatre stage.

This picture is unique in that while essentially a vivid drama of three generations of a vaudeville family, it at the same time injects the pomp and pageantry of the Gay White Way of an earlier and more colorful era.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE

During the filming of Raoul Walsh's "The Man Who Came Back," the Fox Movietone drama which opens to-day at the Playhouse Theatre, three celebrated superlatives were exercised.

Director Walsh naturally wanted the picture to be a box-office hit so he wore his old yachting cap as good luck insurance. Not to be outdone in courting fortune, Janet Gaynor found a chance to slip into her rags and slippers which she claimed brought her fame in "The Heaven."

The supporting cast in this powerful drama, includes Kenneth MacKenna, William Lyster, Mary Forbes, Ulrich Haupt and William Worthington.

He was well-known here and had many friends in the city.

He commanded the famous 75th battalion in France during the last two years of the war, brought the unit back to Canada after the armistice, and remained in command for seven years after it became the 10th Battalion in 1922. In 1928 he was promoted to Colonel and placed in command of the 14th Infantry Brigade. Colonel Harbottle was fifty-eight years of age when he died. A rabbit murderer in the Beacon Hill Park nursery has met his nemesis at last.

For months the agile creature has dared park attendants to catch him. It was early last spring that attendants first became aware that he was responsible for vandalism in the young nursery plants. Scores of them were nibbled and killed, so war was declared on the marauder.

The elusive rabbit played a winning game of hide-and-seek for weeks that drew into months. One of the nurserymen at last set himself the task of capturing the bunny.

Early in the morning and late at night he laid for the intruder. Traps and snares of all kinds were set up in the nursery. Tempting, juicy carrots were placed in the traps. No sign of the elusive creature was seen until yesterday, when Mr. Rabbit could not resist a particularly choice morsel and fell into the trap.

He weighed in at about eleven pounds and was carrying a large rabbit pie in his mouth.

The rabbit was killed and its head was placed on a large rabbit pie.

Ellsworth Vines Gives Reasons for Joining Pro Ranks

Californian Could Not Afford to Continue Play as Simon-pure

Being Amateur Champion No Red of Roses, Says Famous Player

WHEN SUCH an outstanding amateur as Ellsworth Vines joins the professional ranks, his reasons for changing his status are of unusual interest. Since his announcement that he would join Bill Tilden, professional champion, in a series in New York in January, Vines prepared a statement, giving his reasons for leaving the amateur fold. The Californian states he could not afford to keep on playing amateur tennis. He tells of the many advantages and disadvantages of being a champion and of the many chances to "chisel" in amateur tennis.

Excerpts from his statement issued at Los Angeles follow:

"I have become a professional tennis player because it is the only thing for me to do. When a fellow reaches a certain point in his life where he begins to think about the future, where he begins to think of responsibilities, he has to start figuring an answer to the important question: 'Where do I go from here?'"

"The logical answer is for him to start doing the thing he has best fitted to do. And, in my case, it's to play tennis."

"I've spent the best years of my life as far as I am concerned to perfect my game. Where other fellows of the same age have been training themselves for careers in some business, trade or profession. I've been concentrating on swatting a little rubber ball around. I've concentrated on a backhand instead of bookkeeping, an ace in serving in preference to an 'A' in studies and the fundamentals of court tactics rather than the fundamentals of business."

"Amateur tennis made it possible for me to travel all over the United States, to visit Australia, the South Seas, and to cross the Atlantic to Europe—advantages that would probably never have been mine if I had not happened to be a good tennis player."

"I owe a tremendous debt to amateur tennis and if I had not recognized that debt I would have accepted some of the flattering professional offers that were made to me a year ago when I had just completed my tour with the United States and that to abandon my amateur career at that time would not be the sporting thing to do even though it undoubtedly would have been the smartest thing to do. I knew at the time that I was taking a chance of sacrificing my best interests financially, but I felt that the thing for me to do was to do my best to win that cup back for the United States."

"Of course, there are chances to 'chisel' in amateur tennis. A fellow could always play a little better than he really is, or he could get a suit of clothes or even have some non-too-conscientious tournament official slip him a little real money. But I know that I'll be able to play the best tennis of my life now that some of the strain and worry is over."

"I'm playing golf right now—and at least I call it golfing. I'm not playing tennis seriously in about a month and may possibly give a few lessons too. I expect to be in the best form of my career at the start of 1934 and hope to deliver the goods as a professional. Best as a professional means other means of earning my living."

"Anyhow, it's a relief to have finally arrived at the decision to become a professional. At least it is to me. I feel that I'll be able to play the best tennis of my life now that some of the strain and worry is over."

Local Eleven Will Play First Match in Vancouver League Here To-morrow

COMMENCE PLAY AT 3 O'CLOCK

Visitors Bringing Strong Club; Victoria Has Fine Chance to Make Play-offs

To-morrow afternoon, at the Athletic Park, the Victoria eleven will make its debut in the Vancouver first division of the Pacific Coast Football League against the strong St. Saviour's team. The fixture will get under way at 3 o'clock, with Saunders in charge. In view of the fine showing made by the Victoria players in their appearance against St. Andrew's, when the locals chalked up a 2 to 0 victory, the game to-morrow is expected to attract a record crowd.

Victoria officials have selected practically the same club that took St. Andrew's for a ride on Thanksgiving Day. The forward line is the same with the exception of the centre-forward position. Fred Price, Saanich Thistles, replacing "Scotty" Robinson. The latter has been placed on the substitute list and will likely see action during the afternoon. One change has been made on the half-back line, Ronnie Williams, Saanich Thistles, taking the place of Magee.

PLAY-OFF CHANCES GOOD

The Victoria team has a first class chance of making the play-offs to determine the champions of the league. The locals will play home and home games with the other four clubs in the circuit and the standing of Victoria will be figured on a percentage basis. The four mainland eleven, including St. Andrew's, St. Saviours, New Westminster Royals and Vancouver Regents, will play home and home games with each other twice. The three top teams at the end of the regular league fixtures, will make the play-offs.

Nothing definite has been received here on the St. Saviour's line-up for to-morrow, but they are known to have a club that rates with the best in Vancouver.

The line-up for the match will be as follows:

Goal: Louis De Costa, Esquimalt; full-backs: Joe Watt, Esquimalt and Fred Thistles, "Scotty" Robinson, Victoria West; half-backs: Ronnie Williams, Saanich Thistles; Roy Barnes, Victoria West; and Ivan Sweeney, Esquimalt; forwards: Harry "Toots" Taylor, Victoria West; Sam Williams, Esquimalt; Freddie Price, Saanich Thistles; Noel Morgan, Saanich Thistles; substitutes: Joe Crowe, Saanich Thistles; and "Scotty" Robinson, Victoria West; and "Scotty" Stewart, Esquimalt; reserves: Wally Rowe, Saanich Thistles; and Ernie Bettridge, Victoria West.

SENIOR GOLFERS MEET AT UPLANDS LINKS TO-MORROW

Play-off, Starting at 2 o'clock, Will Determine Holder of Buchanan Cup; T. Horne, R. H. Oliver, A. Woodcroft and S. J. Halls, Class Winners, Matched

The annual seniors' tournament, under the auspices of the Uplands Golf Club, has just been concluded and to-morrow afternoon the four finalists in the different classes will meet in a grand final for possession of the Buchanan Cup for the ensuing year. The winners in the different classes were as follows:

Class A: Thomas Horne; B class, R. H. Oliver; C class, A. Woodcroft; and D class, T. J. Halls.

The four winners will tee off at 2 o'clock for eighteen holes medal play on handicap, the lowest net score being declared the winner of the trophy. The result is expected to be as close as last year, when A. Woodcroft, who again figures in the final, won by a single stroke from his nearest competitor, E. Davis.

At the conclusion of the final, the seniors' annual dinner will take place in the club dining-room at 8:30 o'clock, when the trophies will be presented to the winners by President Fred Dillabough. The committee wish to thank A. Dowell, J. R. Angus, J. Wenger and B. Johnson for donating prizes for the tournament.

Long Fence Is Worry To Ruth

Honolulu, Oct. 20.—Babe Ruth, who arrived here yesterday from Los Angeles, was perturbed when he learned the right field fence of the park in which he will play exhibition games is 330 feet from the home plate, eighty-five feet longer than that of the Yankee Stadium. "Turn the park around," Babe suggested to Herb Hunter, baseball promoter who arranged his visit. "Oh, you can knock 'em over," Hunter assured him.

CARNERA IN FINE SHAPE

Heavyweight Champ Winds Up Training To-day For Bout With Paulino

Will Make First Defence of His Title Against Spaniard at Rome Sunday

Sequis, Italy, Oct. 20.—Leading citizen of Sequis, Primo Carnera, world heavyweight champion, eased off a bit yesterday in his training for Sunday's title fight with the "Bouncing Basque," Paulino Uzcudun. But he still got in enough work to wear down many a lesser athlete.

Unshaken by a near accident Wednesday night, when his automobile collided with a car and almost ran off the road as "De Froem" was returning to Sequis from Udine, he got in ten rounds of easy boxing in addition to a session of road work and rope skipping.

Carnera rose early yesterday, galloped over several easy kilometres for road work, accompanied by his entire training suite, and threw in a little shadow boxing along the way for the benefit of his many home town admirers.

This was enough to give him an appetite for breakfast which, like all his meals, was prepared under the vigilant eye of Trainer Defoe and Mama Carnera.

In the afternoon the champion followed his customary boxing routine, taking on the sparring partners for a total of ten rounds in the training ring which his father, Sante Carnera, had built in his yard.

Carnera finished his training to-day, and will fly to Rome, scene of the battle, to-morrow morning. Meanwhile at Rome, Uzcudun was reported as being in excellent shape after following a similar training routine.

Phil Ball Makes Battle For Life

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 20.—Phil Ball, who is owner of the St. Louis Browns, has battled for years against tremendous odds, a putting up the hardest fight of his life here against septicaemia.

Ball, sixty-nine years old, has been under the care of Dr. Robert P. Hyland, club physician, in St. John's Hospital, New York. Himer J. Bosella, California, and Cecil Smith, Texas.

Consensus of metropolitan polo writers and authorities, polled by the Associated Press, revealed belief all three acts of American polo should be rated the same, at nine goals, with a shade of opinion in favor of Smith. If any one of the trio is to be given the peak ten-goal rating.

TONY FALCO GIVES BERG NEAT LACING

Philadelphia Welterweight Upsets Dope By Taking Decision From Briton

Berg's Late Rally Fails to Overcome Early Handicap; Invader Badly Cut

New York, Oct. 20.—Tony Falco, Philadelphia welterweight, upset the dope yesterday evening as he won a split decision over Jackie "Kid" Berg, England, in a ten-round bout at the Broadway Arena. Each weighed 140½ pounds.

At the finish one judge cast his ballot for Falco, the other for a draw. The referee then cast the deciding vote in favor of the Philadelphia.

Berg started out fast, keeping Falco bewildered with his windmill attack in the first three rounds, but the Philadelphia hung a couple of heavy rights on the Briton's jaw in the fourth round and from then on held the edge through the last four rounds. Falco kept Berg tied up at close quarters and easily outboxed him at long range.

Berg staged a comeback in the ninth round and gave Falco a beating about the head in that session and again in the tenth, but he had started his rally too late to catch the decision.

At the finish Berg was badly cut about the eyes and nose while the Philadelphia was virtually unmarked.

Much Debate Over U.S. Polo Ranking

New York, Oct. 20.—One of the warmest family debates of the first time in more than a quarter of a century with a card of seven races at this $5,000,000 track. Racing never was outlawed in Texas, but it was illegal to bet until the legislature recently passed a law providing for the pari-mutuel system of wagering.

More than seventy ticket windows were opened for betting, under the pari-mutuel system, at from $2 to $50. The season will run twenty-one days.

Lands and Ritter Lead Boston Race

Boston, Oct. 20.—With nine teams tied for first place, Dave Lands and Charlie Ritter, the New Jersey combination in the Boston Garden's modified six-day bicycle race, yesterday evening started a spirited series of sprints that swept them into the lead a lap, and scattered the field.

Pace was so terrific as the race neared the 500-mile mark, Jack Sweeney, New York, teamed with his fellow townsman, Frank Keating, dropped out. Sweeney suffered a recent eye injury, which, combined with several hard spills, robbed him of his stamina.

MRS. NURMI TO SEEK DIVORCE

Wife of Famous Finnish Runner Objects to His Interest in Athletics

Helsingfors, Finland, Oct. 20.—Paavo Nurmi and his wife of less than two years have separated. Despite denial, it has been learned Mrs. Nurmi already has taken steps toward obtaining a divorce and custody of their year-old boy, Matti.

The Associated Press correspondent interviewed the wife at Turku, native town of the foot-racer, and verified reports the couple disagreed on Paavo's interest in athletics as well as on the future of their son.

"I have never engaged in athletics and they do not interest me," said Mrs. Nurmi. "I have never seen Paavo run. For me, he is a man, not a sportsman. His concentration on athletics at last forced me to go to the judge for a divorce. You see, an athlete should never marry, unless he is willing to forego much of his activities."

WRESTLER PINS DEBUTANTES AND DOWAGERS IN BUILD-UP

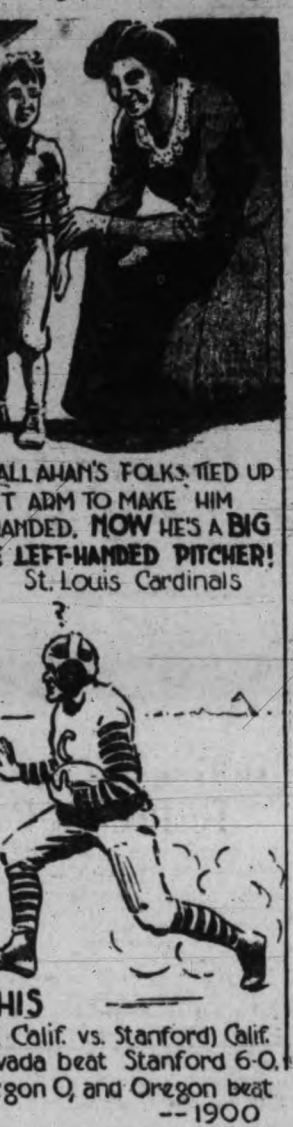

Patrick O'Shocker, Who Will Meet Jim Londos in Charity Bout to Benefit Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Being "Lionized" By Society; Much in Demand at Parties

By W. H. Healy Associated Press Writer

Detroit, Oct. 20.—All for art's sake, a bulky gentleman with an extra-size neck is going about this town twirling the arms of social registerites of both sexes, dumping them on floors, amid groans and grimaces, in the manner of a man busily engaged in hurting himself.

He is one Patrick O'Shocker, disciple of the ancient Greek art of bone-cracking for pleasure or other. Art is a serious matter for O'Shocker, by his own words, and he wants to do something for art besides groaning and making artistic faces while flat on his back. He is a wrestler.

TWO GIRLS IN SWIM CROSSING

Doris McLeod Swims to Alcatraz Island and Return in San Francisco Bay

Gloria Scigliano in Single Journey; Three Women Make Swim This Week

San Francisco, Oct. 20.—Two San Francisco girls, one eighteen and the other twenty, faced the cold choppy waters of San Francisco Bay yesterday and swam from the city's waterfront to Alcatraz Island, the rock fortress recently selected by the United States government to house the most dangerous federal criminals.

Miss Doris McLeod, eighteen, stroked her way easily to the island, circled it and swam on back to the pier from which she had started, completing the round trip in two hours. Miss Gloria Scigliano, twenty, a national junior titleholder, contented herself with swimming to the island, landing at the boat dock on the east shore. She made the crossing in fifty-seven minutes. A few days ago Miss Anastasia Scott, nineteen, daughter of an army sergeant stationed at the island, swam across the channel to the mainland, accomplishing so far as is definitely known, the first woman to perform the feat.

Vancouver Heavyweight Wrestler Drops Match to Wild Bill Edwards

Portland, Ore., and Bob Miller, Chicago, wrestled five ten-minute rounds to a draw here yesterday evening. Myers took the first fall in the first round with an airplane spin, and in the fourth Miller evened it up with a body press.

Wild Bill Edwards, Dallas, Tex., defeated Jack Ferguson, Vancouver, in five rounds. In the second Edwards secured the first fall with a headlock. Ferguson evened the account in the third with a Boston crab, but Edwards decided the issue in the fifth with a body press.

George Whellans, Calgary, took the only fall in the second round to defeat Young Edwards, Texas, in the preliminary.

Player Market In Major and Minor Hockey Is Active

Three Pacific Coast Moguls Sign Many Players on Swing Around Prairies

Ottawa Senators Seek Paul Runge

Detroit Red Wings Get "Gene" Carrigan; Lester Patrick Arrives at Montreal

Calgary, Oct. 20.—Pacific Coast hockey team managers were in Calgary to-day continuing their search for players. Guy Patrick, Vancouver, Frank Foyston, Seattle, and Bobby Rowe, Portland, declare they have secured players that will deliver a real brand of hockey when the newly-formed Northwestern Professional Hockey League games start.

The hockey moguls, who have visited Regina, Saskatoon and Edmonton, on their player hunt, refuse to reveal the names of any players they have signed.

It was believed, however, that Johnny Loucks, Sam Timmins and Gordon McFarlane, Calgary stars, will play with Coast teams this winter. While in Saskatoon, Foyston was reported to have signed Tony Hemmerling, left winger of Saskatoon Quakers in the defunct Western Canada Professional Hockey League last year.

Other Saskatoon players believed to be headed for coast teams are Les Whittles, Archie Gray, Charlie Collins and Curly Hendley. Bud Powley and Charlie Mason may also journey westward.

Edmonton, Oct. 20.—Kenny McKenzie, noted Edmonton professional hockey manager, has declared his intention of quitting the sport to return to fur trading in the north.

McKenzie brought to Edmonton such noted stars as "Bullet Joe" Simpson, Art Gagne, Ty Arbour and Gordon "Duke" Keats.

McKenzie's last venture into hockey occurred last year when he managed the Regina team in the now defunct Western Canada Professional Hockey League. The team later moved to Vancouver.

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—An offer for Paul Runge, star left winger, who was leading scorer last year in the Canadian-American League, has been made to Philadelphia Arrows by the Ottawa Senators National Hockey League Club. It was learned yesterday.

Senators have offered to trade two seasoned forwards for Runge, but local officials would not say who the forwards were ready to trade.

London, Ont., Oct. 20.—Eugene "Gene" Carrigan of London Tecumseh, centre ice star in the International Professional Hockey League, has been traded to the Detroit Hockey Club. It was announced yesterday by John A. Anderson, president of the local club.

Tecumseh got two well-known players and cash for the big Edmonton boy. The players are Leroy Goldworthy, of Detroit Red Wings National League right wing staff, and Descon Waite, centre man of the Olympics International League team.

Goldworthy was traded to Detroit from London the season before Clem Loughlin took over the Tecumseh managerial reins, and Clem has always been desirous of getting "Goldy" back here.

Montreal, Oct. 20.—Scouting hockey in the air from as far off as New York, Lester Patrick, "father fox of hockey," stalked into Montreal yesterday to await the gathering of his Ranger clan.

The blue-shirted Rangers, New York's world championship hockey team, were to report here to-day to get ready for defence of the Stanley Cup they won from Toronto Maple Leafs at the close of the National Hockey League season last spring.

Lester expects to have them on the ice to-morrow.

The Patrick crew open their National Hockey League season at Toronto Saturday night, November 11, facing the Leafs.

Montreal, Oct. 20.—Ban forbidding hockey teams affiliated with the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association to play against the Atlantic City Seagulls of Atlantic City, N.J., was officially lifted yesterday by Frank C. Greenleaf, president of the C.A.H.A.

A report from the midatlantic section of United States Amateur Athletic Union stated they had investigated the status of every player on the Seagulls roster and found them all amateurs in good standing.

ICE GOSSIP

The young man who would impress Lester Patrick of New York Rangers should step right up to the boss and say "They can't beat us." It's a rookie with this spirit Lester is looking for. He was highly impressed with young Blondy Ryan of the New York Giants as he watched the world baseball series.

One of hockey's highest scoring forward lines would be broken up if Toronto Maple Leafs trade or sell Charlie Conacher, right wing star. But Conny Smythe continues to say he expects contract troubles between Conacher and the Leafs to be settled promptly. The Big Train's big brother is the only Leaf, with the exception of Lorne Chabot, and Lorne got himself traded to Montreal Canadiens, to balk at taking a salary cut.

Leroy Goldworthy, who thinks as much of his career in baseball as hockey, goes back to life minors. Detroit Red Wings drafted Goldworthy from the International League Olympics late last season and used him for the balance of the season.

Yesterday Goldy and Frank "Deacon" Waite, centre, were traded to London of the International League for Gene Carrigan.

Goldworthy was one of the leading pitchers for Winnipeg in the Northern Baseball League last summer, winning more than twenty games. Major league scouts are interested in him. Carrigan scored nineteen goals and fourteen assists for London last season.

Manager Jack Adams has been more fortunate than most in picking minor league material. Last season Carl Vosel and Eddie Wiseman were stars in their first big league campaign.

Ottawa Senators, seeking experienced players, have made an offer to the Philadelphia club to turn over the Canadian-American League for Paul Runge, league-leading scorer last season. Senators have offered to trade two seasoned forwards for Runge, a left winger.

Ice practices of the Senators are attracting large crowds at Ottawa. Yesterday Scotty Bowman of the Niagara Falls senior Ontario Hockey Association champions turned out. He and Jerry Shannon, Niagara Falls winger, are trying for jobs with Senators, and may go back to the amateur club if contracts are not offered them.

Reports that Albert Leduc would be traded to Ottawa for Allan Shields were definitely denied by President Frank Ahearn. The Senators yesterday Ahearn said "Shields will not be traded for any defenceman on the Canadiens roster." Nevertheless rumors persisted that a deal would send the "Bastille" of the Flying Frenchmen to Ottawa.

Toronto Leafs so far are free of amateur players. Not a single amateur joined the Leafs at Kitchener yesterday. The most notable newcomers to the squad are Hec Kilrea, Ottawa winger, and George Hainsworth, secured from the Canadiens for Chabot. George's home is in Kitchener.

The Montreal Maroon troupe is at full strength and ready to get on the ice at Montreal as quickly as ice is available. Teddy Graham and Dave Trotter joined up yesterday.

Australian Cricket Board To Reopen Controversy On Bodyline Bowling Tactics

Adelaide, Australia, Oct. 20.—The whole bodyline bowling controversy which threatened to rupture cricket relations between Australia and England, possibly leading to abandonment of the Aussies' tour of England next summer, will be reopened at a special meeting of the Australian Board of Cricket Control here November 16.

Not long ago it appeared amicably settled and the itinerary for the Australian tour of England was arranged.

Several members of the Australian board, however, were not satisfied with the stand taken by the M.C.C. Their attitude is that while the M.C.C. agreed bowling directed at the batsman would be an offence, it gave no definite assurance these tactics would be banned.

Leaders in English First Division Football Confident of Holding Lead

Everton Without Dean's Services

Arsenal at Home to Leicester City; Motherwell Stack Up Against Celtic

London, Oct. 20.—Confident of holding their lead in the first division of the English Soccer League, Tottenham Hotspurs take on Everton to-morrow in one of the day's feature battles.

Everton have lost the services of the famous Dixie Dean, who is not expected to be able to play for a month. Arsenal and Huddersfield could get into a tie for the lead if either won and the Spurs are beaten to-morrow. The Arsenal are at home to Leicester City. Huddersfield travel to Derby County.

Blackpool, to aid their drive to the top of the second division, where they were relegated last season, have signed the Irish international, S. Jones.

To-morrow they engage Oldham Athletic. The other relegated team is Bolton Wanderers, who are enjoying a one-point lead, and they will have no easy task at Hull City.

LOCAL DERBY

London's four second division teams are engaged in local "Derbies." Fulham tussle with Brentford while Millwall are at home to West Ham United.

Exeter City travel to Newport County in an effort to keep their slim lead in the southern section of the third division, while Chesterfield, who have a big margin in the northern section, travel to Crewe Alexandra.

Glasgow, Oct. 20.—It will be Celtic's turn to-morrow to try to administer the first defeat of the season to the fast-traveling Motherwell eleven, who are well in front of the first division of the Scottish Football League. Motherwell are on their own grounds and do not anticipate any difficulty with the unlikely Celts.

Rangers, league champions, whose Glasgow Cup victory over Clyde last Saturday left them five points back of Motherwell, engage Hearts at Ibrox Park.

In the second division, Kings Park, league leaders, meet the battling St. Bernard's eleven. Two second-placers, Arbroath and Dunfermline, meet each other, while the third, Stenhousemuir, clash with Alloa, and have a fine chance to creep to the top.

Canadian Gridders Meet To-morrow In Important Battles

Important Rugby Workout To-night

The Canadian rugby team will hold an important workout at the Athletic Park at 6 o'clock to-night. All players are urged to be on hand as Manager Ken Seave is anxious to put them through their paces in preparations for the crucial game here on November 4 with the Vancouver Athletic Club.

"Big Games" Billed Through Dominion: Vancouver Merlomas Meet Royal City

REGINA RIDERS PLAY SASKATOON

Feature Game in East Will Pit Ottawa Roughriders Against Montreal Squad

Winnipeg, Oct. 20.—Struggle for Saskatchewan rugby supremacy headlines the western Canadian football picture to-day. Pre-game prognosticators are giving long odds the famed Regina Roughriders, as a result of Saturday's fixtures, will encounter Moose Jaw's smooth-passing Maroons in the provincial final.

Roughriders, though badly crippled by loss of their three luminaries, Austin DePatre, Charlie Harrison and George Gilhooley, are given the edge over Saskatoon Hilltopps, who have not won a game this season.

The colorful Maroon outfit, it is anticipated, will have little trouble at Saskatoon in defeating Saskatchewan Varsity, which will mean a deadlock and necessitate a playoff with the Riders.

In the Alberta foothills, Calgary's Altamora Tigers journey to Edmonton, where they meet University of Alberta in the fourth game of the provincial series. With a commanding lead already tucked away, the Altamoras, last year's provincial titleholders, can clinch the title with a win. Otherwise, the series will be prolonged to a five-game affair.

B.C. SERIES

Heartened by an 8 to 2 win last Saturday, Vancouver Merlomas take on New Westminster's squad in the second of a two-game total-point series for the British Columbia title and the right to meet the Alberta winner for the Far West championship.

Manitoba's titleholders, Carl Cronin's Winnipeggers, meet the last of their U.S. opponents in an exhibition game with the Cobblers, from Moorhead, Minn. Cobblers have an impressive record behind them. The Pags are optimistic. In three encounters with United States teams they have won two and lost one.

Toronto, Oct. 20.—For the first time in a half-dozen years, a period of extreme and unrelieved anguish in capital football circles, Ottawa has a "big game" to-morrow. It is the most important game of the day in the east, a conflict from which will emerge a favorite for the Interprovincial Union championship.

The Big Four leadership will be at stake when the Roughriders line up against Montreal, also unbeaten. Each team has beaten Hamilton and Argos and each accomplished the twin-triumph by grim fighting.

STARS IN GAME

But to-morrow Ottawa throws her Abie Eliovits from Michigan State against Montreal's Carl Perkins, Pennsylvania, her own Ondy Tompkins and the Elbowitz punts against those of Huck Welch.

To Argonauts and Tigers, their battle at Hamilton is of no importance. It means one or the other is out of the running.

Two contests in the Intercollegiate Union are important to the college teams. A crowd of at least 15,000 is expected to watch University of Toronto attempt to make it three straight here against Queen's and complete one circuit of the contenders without defeat.

Joe Breen's Mustangs from University of Western Ontario can hustle Merlomas out of contention by beating the Redmen at Montreal, but the slow-starting men of Shaughnessy are being taken a lot more seriously than they were a week ago.

It is Hamilton Cubs at Sarnia and St. Michael's College against Balmy Beach here in the O.R.F.U. Only an unlooked-for victory by the Cubs over Imperials can rejuvenate interest in this race which Sarnia is favored to win.

Davies Boys Desire To Become Amateurs

Vancouver, Oct. 20.—Jimmy and Harold Davies Vancouver brothers, who tried the six-day bicycle races a couple of years back, have applied to A. V. Dougan, western representative of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association, for reinstatement as amateurs.

Brilliant as an amateur, Jimmy was a fair success as a pro rider, but failed to finish on top in any of his four or five races. Harold injured his health in pro company and doctors advised him to quit.

DR. MELDRUM GOES TO NEW GUINEA

Associated Press

San Pedro, Cal., Oct. 20.—Beginning his thirty-year search for the cradle of humanity, Dr. A. M. Meldrum, noted Scottish-American anthropologist, was aboard the liner Monterey today, en route to unexplored wilds in northern New Guinea.

From a study of cannibal tribes reported to live along the headwaters of the Sepik River, 700 miles inland, Dr. Meldrum hopes to obtain definite clue to a forgotten people which he believes lived on Pacific islands centuries before the beginning of the present Melanesian and Polynesian races.

"On my last New Guinea expedition I found a headhunter using a mortar, which I saw was left by some member of a lost race," he explained.

Farmers Working Off Obligations

Coaldale, Alta., Oct. 20.—More than a score of farmers indebted to the Canadian Pacific Railway are working off their obligations by working on construction of a small reservoir being built by the company's department of natural resources in connection with its irrigation system eight miles north of here. Fifty per cent of the wages is paid in cash and other half is applied to the debts.

ROSS BAY SEAWALL

I have for a period of over forty years watched the process of erosion by the sea, and the effort made by the engineers in charge to battle this erosion. Seawalls and groins have been built, and repairs made at a tremendous cost to our citizens, and what is the condition to-day?

Take, for instance, the recent so-called maintenance work on the wall, anyone with a knowledge of the coast should know that for this particular kind of work the only safe season to place concrete in salt water is at the low June tides when climatic conditions are best.

This work has been progressing for several months, but what I am particularly at a loss to understand is why the covering over the drain was left until the last, when it is lower on the tides than any other part of the work? This, to my mind, should have been the first part of the job to be undertaken.

If a mere squall of only a few hours' duration, as occurred recently, cost the city some hundreds of dollars, what would happen if we had a repetition of the storm of last fall, and who would be responsible?

Is it any wonder that the list of reverted lands has reached such an alarming proportion, and the remaining taxpayers have to pay for all these errors? I have reached the limit, but more to follow.

"SOCIAL OWNERSHIP"

To the Editor:—May I express a few comments on "Social Ownership," by S. Luff, Langford, in the issue of Tuesday, October 17, 1933?

Upon reading the above article by Mr. Luff one finds the confused state of his mind well exposed by his last statement: "I have reached the limit, but more to follow."

The lateness of the Langford economist's confusionist theory is very much deplored on account of the very fact of its lateness. It would have been made to our already wonderful collection of parties and theories.

We read: "And only Social labor—the labor which would operate the modern instruments of production."

It is universally conceded that only comparatively very few workers—"many," are required in connection with modern machine production. Therefore, millions now idle will never return to productive labor, without a new birth in economic production and distribution. However, Mr. Luff deduces from his before-mentioned statement: "It is clear, then, that the 'form' of ownership to replace 'private ownership' to-day must be 'Social Ownership.'"

Moresby Standing On Principle of Loyalty To Cause

Not Ashamed of Conservative Record in B.C., He Says in Opening Campaign

Outlines Reconstruction Programme; Giv. Vote of Confidence

"I am not prepared to see the Conservative Party haul down its flag without knowing the reason why. The record of the party is sufficient for anyone to come forward without hesitation or diffidence to ask the electors of this city for their unqualified support, and in this contest I am standing on principle and remaining loyal to a cause that I am proud of," declared W. C. Moresby, K.C., Conservative candidate for Victoria in the provincial elections, in opening his campaign before an audience of about seventy-five persons in the Campbell Building yesterday evening. On finishing his address he was given a vote of confidence and the meeting pledged itself to his support.

Mr. Moresby dealt at length with the action of the Tolmie administration in issuing a statement that a union government was necessary in the province, and then abandoning the Conservative ship to fly under union colors. He reviewed the record of the party since its formation and then presented his platform consisting of reforms in numerous departments of the provincial government and including wide reductions in liquor prices to compete with the inevitable arrival of the period when imported liquors will be sold in United States.

Since the time that Sir Richard McBride had built up his government along party lines it had formed a strong organization, and Mr. Moresby said he had remained true to the political party that he was associated with, and at no time, notwithstanding personal disappointments, had he found good cause to change or alter his faith in the party or its principles.

CRITICIZES PREMIER

What caused Premier Tolmie's action in issuing the statement for a coalition administration, Mr. Moresby did not know, but he felt that if there had been discordance and no loyalty in the party then the Premier should have called a convention and acted upon the majority's ruling in the crisis.

It was necessary to find a possible and practical solution to the situation, he said, for the financial position of British Columbia was enough to strike terror into the hearts of the people. The only means of attack would be with a determined front and a determined effort to balance the budget.

The candidate made reference to T. D. Pattullo's campaign statements that there would have to be balanced budgets, for every budget brought down by the Tolmie administration had been, in a sense, fraudulent, in that receipts had been over-estimated and known expenditures not included.

"I would like to say to Mr. Pattullo that this is just like the pot calling the kettle black," said Mr. Moresby.

He then reviewed financing under the Liberal regime of 1918-19, when, he claimed, expenditures had far exceeded estimated revenue and the figures had been padded up considerably. The Liberals continued to do this until 1928; he stated. Mr. Moresby challenged Mr. Pattullo to show in the record of his and his party where they had made any attempt to balance the budget. Such statements regarding the excellent financing of the Liberals while in power were only political trickery, the candidate told his audience.

Examples of reckless expenditure by Liberals were the Sumas Reclamation scheme and the Okanagan irrigation plan, he stated.

The people expected their elected representatives to approach the situation with a constructive remedy for the restoration of the good standing formerly held by British Columbia.

WANTS EXPERT GUIDANCE

Mr. Moresby was not an advocate of too much government control of industries, but he did stand for expert guidance in the marketing of the province's produce. British Columbia's natural advantages could be increased by intelligent marketing, he said, and all export shipments from this province should be a drawing card for further business.

Whatever government went in at the next election, it should change its tactics and appoint expert ministers with executive ability to control the various departments, he claimed. He felt it was necessary to have men qualified for these positions, in the same manner that it was in business.

He did not wish to indulge in personalities, but an example of the lack of expert knowledge had been evidenced in the Minister of Agriculture during the last several years. The head of this department for years past has been a man of no practical experience, he said. "The department has been in a sorry and sad state."

Municipal, provincial, federal and university officials of this department overlapped in their work, he said, and there had been no co-ordination while officialdom had run rife. The public would be agitated to learn the number of inspectors and other authorities which the agricultural department had employed. What was needed, he claimed, was a small, practical staff of men to study the individual farmer's problems.

"STUPID SITUATION"

"The fisheries department had presented a 'stupid situation,' he said. There had been an abundance of super officialdom and duplication. The result was that this department was in a deplorable state. Mr. Moresby paid tribute to the ability of John P. Babcock, chairman of the International Fisheries Commission, but felt it a shame that his efforts should be frustrated by the action of a minister who 'might have been an excellent apothecary but whose only previous experience and pulchre of the development of our great fishery industry was gained through a watery outlook from a corner drugstore through the colored lights generally exhibited in an establishment of this kind.'

British Columbia, he continued, should be self supporting. It seemed absurd, when one realized the fertility of the soil in the province, that, according to the last statistics, $20,000,000 worth of foodstuffs should have been imported, nearly every item of which could have been produced in the province. A new land policy was desirable here and he was glad to note that practically every group in the election had included this in their platforms.

Mr. Moresby was in favor of having many more books used in the schools of the province printed by the government. A King's printer second to none was available which could turn out every book needed. The performance of such work would cut the cost of many books in half and result in fewer changes being made from year to year.

British Columbia had entirely "out-run the constable" in regard to roads and tourism, he said. The mileage of roads in this province, compared to its population, was absurd. Having the roads, however, it was necessary to work out some economical and effective plan for their upkeep as the tourist trade had to be developed.

The tourist question brought up Mr. Moresby's stand on liquor prices.

BOOTLEG TO R.C.

"There is no doubt that during the dry period in United States, British Columbia derived a huge profit and large benefits from our visitors across the line," he said. "Now, however, the situation is almost entirely reversed, and instead of coming to British Columbia where they had the privilege of going into a beer parlor, the people of United States can stay at home and buy beer and have their meals with it, within the law. Before long, hard liquor will be sold in the United States, and according to the present programme people will be able to buy imported liquors at less than half the price we pay in British Columbia. This will result in an enormous bootleg traffic from the states into this province, and unless the government is prepared to face the situation and bring the prices down to a reasonable level to compete with those of United States, great difficulties are going to arise and a very serious curtailment of our tourist traffic will be inevitable."

"This would be a decided step towards real temperance and would do away with a lot of el fresco drinking." He referred to the fact that Ontario had realized the necessity for this and had taken advantage of the act to compete with conditions in United States.

Mr. Moresby believed that some means might be devised whereby unemployed men willing to work could be placed at work on constructive operations in the province. Under his scheme they could take part in draining, reclaiming and clearing of lands, general construction, work and road work. "Surely the present unemployment is not insurmountable," he said.

FAVORS COMMISSION

He favored the establishment of a Public Utilities Commission to preclude the necessity of paying for watered stock, and advocated unemployment insurance on a contributory basis. While this latter was a national consideration, he realized, lack of action on behalf of federal authorities might lead the way to the instigation of a system on the basis of the Workmen's Compensation Act, he thought.

H. G. Mulliner was the chairman and reviewed Mr. Moresby's record in public service before calling upon him to speak. Harold Hewitt acted as secretary of the meeting.

Independent Candidate For The Islands Describes C.C.F. Movement as Unworkable

Ganges, Oct. 20.—Mahon Hall was filled with a large audience Tuesday evening when Col. W. W. Foster addressed the electors of Salt Spring Island.

Introduced by Capt. Macgregor, F. Macintosh reminded the audience that to many of those present Col. Foster was no stranger appealing for their suffrage, but an old and tried friend. The colonel held the attention of the crowd for an hour.

He described the C.C.F. movement as a sincere attempt to provide a solution of present-day ills, but considered this remedy as unworkable. Breaking down existing institutions and abrogation of the constitution would pave the way for conditions impossible of success in this country.

The greatest asset of which was freedom. Great Britain, he declared, had found the correct way out, and was a safe example to follow in these trying times.

Unemployment was a serious problem for which no real solution had yet been found. In agriculture there was need for better marketing facilities, and security for those now on the land.

Col. Foster was followed by Dr. Alfred Thompson, Vancouver, and R. D. Harvey, Victoria. All three speakers were heard without interruption, although supporters of the C.C.F. movement were present. Following the address refreshments were served and dancing was enjoyed.

"Perfect Man" Tells Secret of Health

Dr. R. Jackson Was Condemned at Fifty, and Is Now Stronger Than Young Man

Asserts That the Normal Span of Human Life Should Be 120 Years

"When the average age of man is five times their mature age, why should not men live equally long?" was the question put by Dr. Robert Jackson to a large audience at the Hudson's Bay yesterday afternoon and at the City Temple in the evening. Dr. Jackson, who is seventy-six, and has a far better physique than the majority of young men, ven on to say that man matured at twenty-five, and woman at twenty-two. Yet few of them reached the Bible's allotted span of three score years and ten, which is but three times their mature age.

Developing the theme of "Three score years and ten," Dr. Jackson said that there was no definite ordinance in the quotation but only a rather grudging admission. Genesis indeed enjoined that men were to live to the age of 120. It was habits and diet which made men so short-lived. Most "all non-violent" deaths were caused by disease, he said. Animals, whose instinct and circumstances made them live simpler lives than men, unless they are killed, always passed away of old age, not degeneration of their organs.

"Everyone," said Dr. Jackson, "has health enough—or at any rate everyone who is born well—and anyone can be well if he or she wills, not wishes, sufficiently to learn the health laws of nature and to obey them. To this rule there are only two exceptions, those so broken by the wounding of life that they are too far gone to mend, and those who have so long followed the bad habits of normal life that their organs are too degenerated to be worth saving."

DIE TOO YOUNG

After quoting several scientists to the effect that man does not die, but kills himself, Dr. Jackson went on to say that 175,000 young men, men under forty, died every year in the United States from diseases of old men, such as hardening of the arteries, and troubles of the heart, kidney and digestive organs. These diseases which were attributes of old age had no place at all in life, he said.

Men looked at centenarians with a kind of contempt, the doctor said, as being something out of the normal course of life. In all the countries of the world except Bulgaria, he said, there was only one man of a hundred or more out of every 10,000. But in Bulgaria there were many men of 120 and more, and the proportion was as low as one in 250. This he attributed to the diet of the Bulgars, which is scanty, consisting largely of coarse black bread. The so-called civilized nations lived on a diet of highly acid-forming and devitalized food which caused their organs to degenerate when the whole body ought yet to be young and strong.

"Disease is not meant by nature," said Dr. Jackson, and he went on to tell of cases of his own experience in which the following of the few simple rules laid down in his three books on the subject "How to be always well" had brought health and old age to men who had been given up as hopeless by their doctors with the diseases of degeneration of the modern age.

Slides of statistical graphs were then projected showing the death rate from apoplexy and diseases of the heart and kidneys. A highly unusual fact which resulted from these graphs was that the public health was at its best in time of depression. Present reports showed, he said, that the United States had never in recent years had so low a death rate as at present. The same had been true inside the country during the war, when people had of necessity been more abstemious than before or in the boom afterwards. Dr. Jackson also showed graphs of deaths from disease of organs in Copenhagen during the course of the war. In the early days, when the country was rich from supplying Germany with contraband the figures were enormous, but they dropped suddenly when the blockade brought poverty and want to the country.

Although the preventable infectious disease death rate had dropped enormously in the last half century, the total death rate of grown men had increased, owing to the softness of modern life.

Other graphs showed that vegetarians, being more abstemious all round, had lower blood pressure and more endurance than excessive flesh eaters.

Dr. Jackson then went on to give his own history, showing slides of himself fifty years ago when the doctors had despaired of his life, and at various ages up to the present, showing himself seemingly growing younger.

His present physique is wonderful, better, he claims, than that of most young men. Six artists in recent years have asked him to pose for them, as a perfect specimen of a man. He can chin himself on a horizontal bar with one arm, and stay there, can place his head on one chair and his feet on another, and allow a man to sit on his abdomen, and still walk ten miles every day. He considers himself still young at seventy-six, and is making plans for the next forty years of his life.

SUPPORT OF RED CROSS SHOP URGED

Colwood, Oct. 20.—Support of the Red Cross workshop was urged by Mayor S. H. Okell at a well-attended meeting of the Colwood Women's Institute Wednesday afternoon. The speaker related how Dr. C. Wace of the Queen Alexandra Solarium had been influential in establishing the Red Cross workshop in Colwood, the Victoria shop being the first established and is now the only remaining one giving employment to disabled men. Major Okell stated 100 men since its inception, had been on the payroll, one-third having so much improved in health and self-reliance as to enable them to take their places elsewhere. Thirty-two men are employed at the present time. Major Okell spoke highly of the work of the women's institute and felt sure he would have the co-operation of their members in supporting the Red Cross workshop.

In the absence of Miss Kelly, Mrs. H. Parker, vice-president, presided, and moved a vote of thanks to Major Okell for his address.

Mrs. S. J. McMaster presented a report on the institute convention in Victoria. A donation was approved by the meeting for the Children's Aid Society. Mrs. H. Parker, convener of the visiting committee, reported flowers had been sent to sick members.

Mrs. E. Shields and Mrs. C. Carnegie served tea.

Six tables were in play at Wednesday evening's card party in Colwood Hall, the winners being Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Longworth, Mrs. King, Messrs. R. Wishart, E. Wishart and J. Marshall.

It was the unanimous wish of those in attendance that steps be taken immediately to initiate a library, and a committee of three was appointed to draft the necessary course of action. Miss B. Tranfield, E. Akenhead and B. S. Wood compose the committee.

The City Council is expected to give a room in the City Hall, and this will be arranged to accommodate books and librarians' quarters.

The "Otter" was a small steamer of 220 tons with a length of 125 feet and a beam of 22 feet.

Built in 1850 in England, she arrived on the coast in 1853 to relieve the steamer "Beaver". The engines of the "Otter", which at the time were considered a marvel of engineering skill for the period, were of direct action, condensing type, and she had two of them.

Early steamers of this type always carried a full rigging of canvas and used wind power when at all possible.

During the "Otter's" better days, people of British Columbia were proud of the payroll of the Island mines amounting to thousands of dollars a year. They called Island coal the "payroll fuel". Today, with a payroll of $2,000,000, the Island mines are one of British Columbia's backbone industries.

BUILDS HEALTH AND STRENGTH

Bowser Says Party Lines Must Be Wiped Out In This Province

Appeals to Victoria Electors For Support on Non-Partisan Ticket: Would Limit Borrowing Powers, Recast Provincial Loans and Balance the Budget

Charles R. Bishop, Ald. Walter Luney and George McGregor Are Speakers on Same Platform: Declare Patronage Must Be Abolished

Sounding the battle cry that "partyism is dead and patronage is a thing of the past," W. J. Bowser, former premier of the province, and the three candidates who are aligned with him on the Non-partisan ticket opened their Victoria campaign of the election fight at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday evening.

The hall was full and the audience gave the speakers an attentive hearing, but did not grow enthusiastic at any time.

Mr. Bowser, who spoke for forty minutes, appealed on a nine-point platform, as follows:

- (1) Relief for municipal burdens to protect the homes of individuals.
- (2) Reduce the cost of government.
- (3) Balance the budget.
- (4) Reduce interest by recasting the present loans.
- (5) Aim to limit the provincial borrowing powers.
- (6) Revision of taxation and financing.
- (7) Improvement of the liquor administration.

(9) Reduction in the size of the cabinet and the legislature.

VIEWS ON PARTIES

Mr. Bowser appealed for support for his own group on the grounds of experience. Its members had been both Conservatives and Liberals but had realized that in the present crisis party lines must be wiped out. He said the main opposition to the Non-partisan group could be summed up as follows: "Toime Unionists—'They're not in the picture, so why should I waste time holding a post mortem.'"

Liberals—"Should we put Pattullo back. The provincial debt increased $23,000,000 in twelve years under the Liberal regime and we can't carry on long at this rate before we are bankrupt."

C.C.F.—"Without offering this party any offence, it seems to me their plans are Utopian. They would introduce a millionum at once and we know this is impossible. The people are sensible enough not to make too much of a jump in the dark."

"When I retired in 1924, through the vote of the people, I thought I had given as much of my life to the public as might be expected," Mr. Bowser said. "But my friends brought so much pressure to bear on me a few months ago that I have come out again to offer my experience for what it is worth."

"All I have to offer is my long experience in the public life of British Columbia."

FRANCHISE FOR WOMEN

He said he felt at home again in the "hurly-burly" of politics when he heard a woman named "Molly Glynn" say over the radio that he was a man who had no use for women. He was the author of the bill which gave the franchise to women during the war and had submitted it to referendum in the same way the prohibition bill had been enacted. Although prohibition had been repealed, the women still had their franchise and were taking a keen interest in politics.

"People must take this election very seriously," he continued. "We are in a very critical time, financially and in a business way, and we must study each group that is offering for election very carefully."

He quoted the figures on public debt for the last seventeen years, saying that it had increased $93,000,000 from 1916 to 1928 and $49,000,000 during the five years of the Toime regime. Interest payments this year amounted to $6,980,000 and sinking fund charges to $5,000,000 making a total of nearly $12,000,000 for debt charges alone, and only $8,000,000 for current expenditures.

TIME TO HALT

"How long can this go on before we are bankrupt? This is what we got under the party system. You can understand why we gentlemen who have known only political parties before have decided that partyism is done. Isn't it time we called a halt?" Mr. Bowser asked.

"We need a good strong government which will apply the ordinary principles which you would in your own business to restore the confidence of the people in themselves and in their public men."

Mr. Bowser said his group was not the first to throw aside party lines. In Great Britain Ramsey MacDonald did it in a time of stress and it was successful. South Africa, New Zealand and Australia had all put coalitions into effect at difficult periods and they had met with success.

LACK EXPERIENCE

He paid some attention to the C.C.F. platform and described it as apparently more applicable to Dominion affairs than to provincial matters. He said the members of that group lacked experience and it was only reasonable to suppose that those who had had experience in government could do things more quickly for relief of the depression than those who had not. The suggestions offered by the C.C.F. were impracticable and it might be hard for people to separate the wheat from the chaff, but he thought the voters were sensible enough not to make too much of a "jump in the dark."

"We offer our experience and our standing in the community and we hope to carry on, and do better than was done in the past," he added.

In dealing with his programme, Mr. Bowser briefly outlined his points. Referring to the need for assisting municipalities he said it might be necessary for the province to give more of its revenue to the municipalities, but, in any case, a commission was now studying this matter and would report to the next government.

ADMITS MISTAKES

As he discussed the proposal to reduce the cost of government the audience laughed when he said he could look back and see where it could have been cut down in his time, but added that he was fair enough to admit this.

"There were extravagances in our time and we will see they don't happen again," he said.

Borrowing powers of the province should be limited, he maintained to prevent overburdening the people with debt. This was a matter which required very grave consideration.

He promised to deal with the liquor administration with a "strong and firm hand." Having had no previous ties in this direction he would be at liberty to do so and since this was a large source of governmental revenue, it needed attention, he said.

CAMPAIGN FUNDS

He referred in his closing remarks to the fact that his group had not sufficient funds to hire a larger hall and he attacked the Liberal party on this ground, declaring someone was willing to put up the money for this purpose.

"Good men with a fixed purpose to do what's right are all that is required in this election and I hope you will choose them on November 2," he concluded.

C. R. BISHOP

Charles R. Bishop, who was the first of the slate to speak, declared that the province needed honest, capable men, outside of party domination, to retrieve its position. He quoted government statistics showing that there was one central government, nine provincial governments and 4,000 municipal governments in Canada paying a total of $350,000,000 a year in interest charges, or about $1,000,000 a day.

"We are determined to abolish the patronage system. I am absolutely independent, and make no promises whatsoever. We propose, however, to make the civil service commission responsible to the Legislature and to revise the method of examination so that all will have a fair chance at government jobs," he said.

Mr. Bishop said he advocated free speech in the House and had himself helped to inculcate this in the Liberal platform.

ALDERMAN W. LUNNEY

Alderman Walter Lunney made an appeal as a business man, stating he believed that men who had made a success of their own businesses were required to the Legislature.

"Realizing the seriousness of the financial condition of the province, and feeling that the machinery of party politics is too cumbersome to life us out of this condition, I feel that business men, who have made a success of their own businesses, should be given an opportunity to prove to the public that the same practice used in private life can be applied to the business of the province. This, I believe, will prove a big factor in lifting British Columbia out of the mire we are in at the present time," Mr. Lunney said.

All members of the Non-Partisan group would be free to vote in the Legislature in accordance with his own judgment and would be free to advocate his own views on all public questions, Alderman Lunney said.

SHORTER WORKING HOURS

He advocated shorter hours of labor as one solution for the present economic condition. As far as possible, without exposing industry to disastrous competition from other parts of Canada, he would work to this end, he said.

He criticized the action of the late government in purchasing large amounts of construction machinery, contending that the work would be done just as reasonably by day labor, employing a larger number of men. Machinery had pushed the wage earners into the ranks of the unemployed.

He outlined how working hours had been gradually reduced in the last thirty or forty years and said there was no reason why a further reduction should not be made so that all men would be absorbed in the employe class. Hand-in-glove with this was

THE TREND IS TOWARD THE V-8

BUY TOMORROW'S CAR...TODAY

Ford

The Modern Car

THE eight has always been a great car to drive. But it was costly to buy and expensive to operate. Then along came Ford with a new kind of eight-cylinder car. An eight-cylinder car in the price class of the "4" and as economical to run.

The success of the 1933 Ford V-8 has set all motor manufacturers thinking and the trend is definitely toward the V-8. In the words of Henry Ford—"The V-8 is the coming car for the majority of drivers. It will be only a short time until motor manufacturing practice will follow the trail we have blazed."

Carefully kept cost records show remarkable gasoline mileage in the 1933 Ford V-8. In Toronto, L. G. Donald reports 23.44 miles per gallon and adds—"I know that for certain periods I was getting 26½ miles to the gallon."

O. A. Gerrow, of Oshawa, Ontario, writes: "The economy of operation is far above my expectations. My average gas consumption is 22 miles per gallon in city and country driving." Hundreds of other owners of the 1933 Ford V-8 report 22 to 25 miles per gallon.

Here's something else to remember when you're thinking about cost of operation and up-keep—

Genuine Ford parts cost less and the Ford flat labor rates are more than 30% less. You can buy a lot of gasoline on what you save there.

All we ask is this—see and drive the New Ford V-8. It's the greatest all-round value ever offered in a motor car and you ought to know about it. The trend is toward eight cylinders and there's no need for you to be satisfied with less. Get tomorrow's car—TODAY!

a question of higher wages, and he thought the Dominion Government should handle the matter in order to protect the province from competition.

GEORGE MCGREGOR

George McGregor, who was introduced by the chairman as "one of the villains in the piece" being one of the founders of the movement, followed up with the expression that "I'll never rue it, either."

"I won't," he continued, "because I don't think two parties playing politics will ever get us out of this mess. This is too big a matter to play politics with, and we must get away from them."

Men with experience were needed, he maintained, men who were willing to discard party affiliations and give of their best.

"I'll tell you why I left party politics. You have all probably seen the same reports and pamphlets about the cabinet minister who spent $500,000 on his own constituency and no member of the House got up to protest. I can tell you if I was in the House and such a thing happened I would be the first to get on my feet and criticize. In this election you have a chance to vote for people who won't stand for a thing of this sort, and you can't say afterward that you didn't," he declared.

NON-REVENUE PRODUCING

Mr. McGregor criticized government borrowings from the angle that they were not for revenue-producing projects. Other provinces like Manitoba had large debts, but the money went into public utilities which produce a return. If the present British Columbia policy were continued there would be no business left to tax for paying the debt.

"I've heard it said there is only one party that is equipped to step in and take control," he continued. "It amused me when they said their machine was well oiled up because I take it someone was putting up the money to grease the machine. The machine has been running this province for a number of years, and it is still trying to do it. If we are elected those interests won't run it any longer."

INCREASE IN BUDGET

Fred C. Elliott, the chairman, made a few brief remarks, referring to the fact that in 1930 the province operated on a revenue of $1,000,000 and today it could not live within a budget of $20,000,000 or $30,000,000.

"Do you still drive a buggy?" came a question from the audience.

"If a lot of us were driving buggies we'd be better off and at least we'd own the buggy," he replied.

Prescott's orchestra supplied music prior to the speeches, and at the finish played "God Save the King," while several of the crowd were attempting to ask questions of the speakers.

U.S. President

Favors Seaway

Detroit, Oct. 20.—Promises of support from the Roosevelt administration for ratification of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway Treaty with Canada were heard yesterday evening by the Great Lakes Harbors Association, along with demands the seaway be constructed as an effective measure of farm relief.

A telegram was read from President Roosevelt, which said: "It goes without saying I have in no way changed my position on the project."

A short time later, Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, in an address, quoted from a letter he had received recently from the President, it said: "I favor ratification of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Deep Waterway Treaty."

It was Governor Floyd B. Olson of Minnesota who demanded the seaway be constructed as a "form of farm relief."

WARDEN LEVELS GUN AT YOUTH

Sooke Crop Protecting Incident Raised in Esquimalt Election Campaign

Mr. Pooley Would Make B.C. Hundred Per Cent Game Reserve, Says Farmer

Attorney-General Pooley and the game department policy, under which an armed warden pointed a loaded shotgun at the breast of an eighteen-year-old boy searing deer off his father's turnip crops, were linked in pointed criticism by C. A. Helgeson, Sooke farmer, at the meeting in support of C. E. Whitney-Griffiths, Liberal candidate, at the Rex Theatre, Esquimalt, yesterday evening.

Mr. Helgeson, who is the father of the boy referred to, vigorously attacked the game board policy which forbade farmers to take adequate measures, to ward off deer which made disastrous inroads into their crops. He told of treatment of farmers at the hands of members of the Game Board and recited as one example, his own case. His son had been arrested by a game warden, who pointed a loaded shotgun at his breast, in his own farm yard when he had sat outside in his fenced turnip patch and shot a marauding deer that was destroying the crop. True, he had a flashlight, Mr. Helgeson said, but surely the law against pit-lamping differentiates between a criminal pit-lamper with a high-powered rifle and a farmer who sits in his yard to protect his crops.

Hon. R. H. Pooley, former Attorney-General in the Toime administration, had told him, Mr. Helgeson, that there was no differentiation and that he thought that it was British justice to arrest a boy of eighteen in his own yard after shooting a deer that had been destroying his father's crops.

"By arbitrary action," Mr. Helgeson said, "Mr. Pooley intends to go the Almighty one better and make British Columbia a 100 per cent game preserve and drive the farmer out."

A virulent attack on the patronage and "spoils" system was made by Mr. Helgeson.

Despite Late Sales Wheat Has Increase At Winnipeg To-day

Winnipeg, Oct. 20.—Sweeping into the pit in the last few minutes of trading, a spurge of selling pared gains substantially on Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day. Despite this sell-off wheat futures at the close held net gains of 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 cents over the previous finish.

Source of the selling movement was hard to determine, but it had the appearance of a little late hedging, coupled with realizing liquidation.

Prices offered good resistance, however, and the October option ended at 59 1/2, November 59 1/2, December 59 1/2 and May 64 1/2 cents. Values previously had climbed 3 1/2 cents up, with October leading the advance.

A little selling occurred on the bulge and top levels were pared fractionally but prices were still more than three cents up from the low points.

Chicago and New York interests were credited with being heavy speculative buyers, presumably on reports constructive market announcements would be made from Washington to-day.

Export sales were estimated at 500,000 bushels. There was little demand for cash grains. Coarse grains trade was small, but prices were up in line with wheat futures.

CHICAGO RISES

Chicago, Oct. 20. (Associated Press).—A quick advance whirled grain prices up late to-day to the extreme limit allowed for any twenty-four-hour period. The market afterwards suffered violent swings backward, wiping out much of the gains. New buying of wheat for government sponsored agencies was largely responsible for the upturn.

Wheat closed flurried, 2 to 4 1/2 cents above yesterday's finish. Corn 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents up, oats 1 1/2 to 2 1/4 advance, and provisions varying from two cents decline to a rise of ten cents.

Cultivate Politeness Acquired Trait

Youngsters Who Are Allowed to Be Boors in Childhood Will Be Boors When They Grow Up; Yet How Many Parents, Knowing How Much of Happiness and Success Depends on Manners, Deliberately Handicap Their Children

NOT long ago I was dining at a table where the children of the family gobbled their food like so many little pigs. Their mother made a few feeble attempts to instill the first principles of table etiquette into them, "Johnny, don't eat peas with your knife." "Mary, don't mop up your plate with your bread." And so on. But all of her efforts were absorbed by grandmother, who said: "Oh, don't bother the poor little dears. Let them alone. When they grow up they will learn how to eat properly."

Which is an optimistic belief that only a parent is credulous enough to hold, for common observation shows us that our manners, like our morals, are formed in the cradle and we rarely change them or improve them. The ways that were set in us when we were young and plastic harden into habits that cannot be broken. So the infant who starts out as a sword-swallower remains a sword-swallower to the end of his life.

Particularly is this the case with men, who are less observant, less imitative, and put less stress on the niceties of conduct than women do. Almost any girl who is sent off to a good finishing school will learn from the other girls how to pick her way deftly among the silver at the table, but all of us know brilliant and intelligent men who have risen to power and place, who still hold their forks as if they were pitchforks, and who can be heard eating their soup across the room.

Granted that table manners are not the most important thing in the world, and that a man can succeed in spite of the lack of them if he has great talent and ability, still it is not to be denied that they are a help in pushing his fortunes and a serious handicap if he does not possess them. As small a thing as a toothpick may stand between an ambitious youth and the opportunity he had worked so long for, and I knew of one young man who failed to get the management of a branch firm was establishing in another city because of the way he ate an egg. "Couldn't send a chap you couldn't ask to dinner to represent us," said the president.

All of which goes to show the fallacy of the theory that good manners are something that you acquire by nature as you grow up, as you do a beard or long hair, and that the youngsters that you have permitted to be boors in their childhood will automatically develop into courteous and polished men and women, so that it is not worth while for parents to bother about trying to teach their children good table manners or politeness.

Nothing of the sort happens. A knowledge of correct behavior is no more instinctive than a knowledge of how to read and write and spell. Both are a matter of education and have to be ground systematically into children from their infancy up.

And the queer thing is that parents will make every sacrifice to have their children taught all theologies and isms and the dead languages and highest mathematics, but they make no effort to teach their children good manners. Even the schools neglect this important branch of education. Yet a pleasing address, a knowledge of what to do and say, a graciousness of demeanor—what we call good manners—are the greatest accomplishments that any human being can possibly possess.

For a man's and woman's manners are their front, so to speak. It is the first thing we notice about them. It gives us our initial impression of them, and upon whether this is pleasant or unpleasant depends, to a large extent, our relationship with them. If Mr. A. is gruff and churlish, we pass by his shop to that of the pleasant and agreeable Mr. B. next door. If Mrs. C. is friendly and cordial when we meet her, we call on her and invite her to tea and to join our club, but if she tries to high-nast us, we leave her out of everything and she can die of loneliness for all we care.

Miss D., who is a saleswoman in a big department store, has customers who swear by her because she is always so interested in what they are buying and so anxious to help them get what they want. Nobody will buy of Miss E. if they can help it, because her manner is that of a Grand Duchess condescending to take notice of one of the proletariat. John Jones takes the trouble to be courteous to old ladies and every old lady becomes his press-agent singing his praise. Thomas Smith, who is really competent and industrious, can never get a job and doesn't know that his hoodoo is his manners, his way of addressing the man who does the hiring and firing.

So much of one's happiness and success in life depends upon one's manners. Even success in marriage, for if husbands and wives were universally polite to each other, if they were courteous to each other, if they were considerate of each other's welfare and deferred to each other's tastes, it would do more than any other one thing to promote domestic peace and harmony.

Good manners are a letter of credit that are honored at sight the world over. What a pity that all parents do not put them in their children's hands!

Great Men of Science

JOSEPH LISTER

In 1861 the doctor in charge of the hospital connected with the University of Glasgow had ways which seem strange to us. When he operated on a patient, he did not put on a clean white robe. He turned up his coat sleeves, to be sure, but that was just to keep his coat clean. He did not always wash his hands before he started to use the knife. It seemed to him that there was little use in doing so, since his hands would be soiled again by bleeding of the wound.

Thanks to the carbolic acid, which kept the wound clean, the boy was spared the danger from microbes. The acid burned him somewhat, but he became well.

In later cases Lister mixed the carbolic acid with as many as twenty parts of water, or with several parts of oil. This method of using the acid did not cause burns and the mixture was strong enough to kill germs.

Some doctors who heard of Lister's work laughed about it, but others came to Glasgow and watched him at work. His method was so successful that it was taken up and used in all parts of the civilized world.

Lister lived until 1912, dying at the age of eighty-five. He is one of the great figures in human history.

The leaflet called "Marvels of the Sky" contains a diagram showing sizes of the planets and their distance from the sun. It tells about Donati's comet and other wonders. If you want a copy, without charge, send a stamped return-envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

To-morrow—A Little Saturday Tale.

Joseph Lister

That doctor's methods were no worse than those practiced elsewhere. Scotland, in fact, had better hospitals than some parts of the continent of Europe.

Five years later there was a different picture in that hospital in Glasgow. A thirty-eight-year-old doctor was in charge—Joseph Lister, born near London, England.

Lister was filled with sadness when he observed the high death rate at the hospital. It seemed to him a shame that so many persons should die, or lose their legs or arms, because germs set in after an operation.

"What is the reason?" he asked himself.

Work done by the French scientist, Pasteur, had proved the existence of germs or microbes; and Lister thought that the main trouble must come from germs which entered the wounds.

"Those germs," he decided, "must be killed."

Catarhal Deafness and Head Noises

TELLS SAFE, SIMPLE WAY TO TREAT AND RELIEVE AT HOME.

If you have catarhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmit (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing should become easier, while the distressing head noises, headaches, dizziness, sleeplessness, etc., should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucous droppings in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which may often be overcome by this efficacious treatment. It is said that nearly ninety per cent of all ear troubles are caused by catarrh and there must, therefore, be many people whose hearing might be restored by this simple, harmless home treatment. # Earl Beatty Urges Much Larger Navy

Acceptance of Fifty Cruisers to Do Work of Seventy was Deplorable Error, He Says

Personnel of British Navy Is Down Thirty-five Per Cent on 1914 Personnel

London, Oct. 20.—Earl Beatty, former chief of the naval staff, made a plea for a stronger British navy yesterday evening in which he urged Great Britain to adopt a shipbuilding programme for unemployment relief. Speaking at the Navy League dinner, he declared Britain must never again bind herself to "such an unsafe limit" as fifty cruisers after the London Naval Treaty expires in 1935. "It is not parity with the States I cavil at," he maintained, "if she wants as many as we do."

But acceptance of fifty to do the work of seventy was a grave and deplorable blunder. It is a matter of interest and grave concern that the personnel of the United States navy totals 107,000, a 60 per cent increase over the 1914 number, and that Japan had 88,000 in 1931, and has probably a greater number to-day. "Our personnel has been reduced to 90,000, a decrease of 35 per cent on 1914 numbers," Lord Lloyd, who presided, said political leaders "forget when Nelson expected every man to do his duty he did not expect every man to do his duty by Geneva or the League of Nations."

Washington, Oct. 20.—The Navy League of America, in a letter made public yesterday, told the British Navy League that continued antagonism by Great Britain to the naval building policy of the United States would block an "absolutely essential" co-operation between the two nations.

The letter was signed by N. M. Hubbard Jr., president of the American Navy League, and is to be delivered formally to-day in London. The league has no official connection with the government here. While the world is slowly emerging from the economic cataclysm resulting from the late war, the letter said, "many informed and experienced observers believe it is swiftly moving toward a supreme conflict of arms involving the existence of governmental control and our present civilization."

COAST SHIP FIRM SUE

San Francisco, Oct. 20.—Aftermath of the unexplained death of twenty-eight prize racing greyhounds, en route here from Seattle, by the S. C. Coast Service, the firm of W. W. Thomas of New York and Butler Brooks of Miami, Fla., yesterday filed suit for $34,000 damages in Federal Court against the Pacific Steamship Company.

The complaining owners of the dogs charged in their petition that steamship employees pulled heavy tarpaulins to tightly over the kennel cages that the dogs suffocated. When the deaths were discovered, investigation was made to determine whether the animals might have been poisoned, but no findings to substantiate the accusation were made public.

SEA CADETS TO PARADE

Victoria's smart young sailors, who are members of the Rainbow Sea Cadets Corps, will be in evidence on the streets of the city to-morrow as Trafalgar Day is celebrated throughout the British Empire.

At 10 o'clock in the morning Lord Nelson's signal will be hoisted at the Parliament buildings and the Admiralty's salute will be played by the band of the Cadet Corps.

Usually the Cadets hold a tag day in Victoria on Trafalgar Day, but in view of many appeals to the public recently, for donations towards different charitable institutions and welfare organizations, the executive of the Victoria branch of the Navy League decided not to hold one this year.

To-morrow evening in the Hudson's Bay Company's dining-room the Naval Veterans' Branch No. 42 of the Canadian Legion will hold its annual Trafalgar Day dinner. Several well-known persons have been invited to speak.

She will be accompanied south on the Santa Lucia Monday by her niece Mrs. Dewdney of Cambridge, Mass.; A. C. Elkington of Philadelphia, her Japanese secretary, Miss Mori, and Dr. Y. Takaki, life-long friend of the late Dr. Nitobé, who flew from New York.

EMPRESS WINS COVETED CUP

Trevessa Trophy Goes to Ss. Empress of Asia Following Hongkong Classic

Vancouver, Oct. 20.—First Canadian ship to win the coveted prize, the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Asia, Capt. A. V. R. Lovegrove, D.S.O., has just won the Trevessa Trophy for which lifeboat crews of ships of all flags race over a four and a half mile course each year at Hongkong, according to a cable received to-day by Capt. E. Alkman, general superintendent of the Canadian Pacific Steamships.

The annual lifeboat classic at Hongkong commemorates the remarkable daring and seamanship of two lifeboat crews from the British ship Trevessa which sank off the Australian coast thirteen years ago. Putting to sea in 1920, the ship was wrecked by a gale and the other by the mate, the Trevessa's crew rowed and sailed some 2,300 miles to Mauritius Island. Though they soon lost sight of each other after leaving their sinking ship both boats turned up intact at Mauritius.

Lifeboat crews from Dutch traders who get much experience in open boats by putting constantly into ports in the Far East where there is no shelter for big ships usually have succeeded in winning the Trevessa Cup in the Hongkong classic in former years.

C.P.R. LOSES SUIT TO U.S.

B.C. Coast Service Must Pay $4,248.80 For Overtime Wages to Immigration Men

Seattle, Oct. 20.—Federal Judge Jeremiah Neter, ruling shipping lines must pay the overtime of immigration inspectors when their vessels dock at Seattle, has granted the United States Government a $4,248.80 claim against the Canadian Pacific Railway's subsidiary, the B.C. Coast Service.

The amount represents the overtime wages of approximately twenty-five immigration inspectors who worked beyond their regular hours in meeting Canadian Pacific ships in Seattle and Vancouver.

The suit was based on a 1931 Congressional measure bringing the Immigration Department under the same regulations as the Customs Service.

WILL COMMAND RUSSIAN SHIP

On his way to Seattle to take command of the Danish motorship Karle, which is to be chartered by the Danish government, Paul Selinsky, a Russian mariner, passed through Victoria yesterday evening aboard the liner Dorothy Alexander.

Accompanied by a Russian marine engineer, also from Vladivostok, Capt. Selinsky arrived in San Francisco from the Orient, Tuesday, by the Dollar liner President Lincoln. He said a crew of Russian seafaring men will arrive in Seattle from Vladivostok during the next week or ten days to man the motor vessel on her voyage across the North Pacific.

The Karle was recently purchased by the Amtorg Trading Company of Soviet Russia from the Swenson Fur Trading Company of Seattle. The vessel is now at the plant of the Lake Union Drydock and Machine Works, where she was rebuilt for her new owners.

The Karle will be loaded with miscellaneous freight, and will sail from Seattle direct for Vladivostok. She is to be used as a Siberian Arctic trader by the Amtorg Corporation.

Uyo Maru of N.Y.K. Fleet Due at William Head; Has Speed of Eighteen Knots

The new Japanese freighter, Uyo Maru, of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha fleet, is expected at William Head Quarantine Station to-morrow afternoon at 3 o'clock on her maiden voyage across the north Pacific, according to a wireless message received in Victoria this morning by Harry Clark, local N.Y.K. representative.

The Uyo Maru is one of the fastest and most modern freighters on the Pacific. She averages eighteen knots, which is unusually speedy for a freight ship.

From William Head to-morrow she will proceed direct to Vancouver to discharge a parcel of cargo, including a consignment of raw silk. She will then go to Seattle, return to Vancouver for salt fish, proceed to Powell River for paper, and then return to Vancouver, to sail on her return voyage to Yokohama on November 4.

Just in which route out of Japan the Uyo Maru will be operated, has not yet been stated. It is not believed she will operate regularly in the north Pacific.
